GANGSTERS SLAY SON OF AGED WIDOW

Youthful Breadwinner Is Killed in Night Attack On East Oakland Street; Left in Gutter Near Morgue

Skull Crushed in Mysterious Onslaught; Three Suspects
Nabbed in S. F.; Clean Up Promised By Chief Drow

Rowdiness, rampant in East Oakland for some time, resulted last night in the murder of William Reinking, 19, and the inauguration of a spirited police crusade against gangs in the district east of Twenty-third avenue.

That William Reinking, who was found in a gutter in front of the morgue early last evening and who died without regaining consciousness, was the victim of young bunches who had no definite motive for slaying him was expressed by the police.

Reinking is one of many assailed by hoodlums during the past few months. Chief of Police James T.
Drew had instructed Captain Thos.
W. Brown to start a crusade against the gangsters with a view to "cleaning up the district."

ATTACKED AND SLAIN ON ROUTE TO HOME.

Before the campaign was well under way Reinking, on his way home after a short walk, was attacked by three young men who struck him over the head with a club crushing his skull. As they ran up Twenty-fourth avenue after the attack one of them said to another:

"Come on now, we've got him!"
Descriptions of the three men were furnished the police by H. G.
Simmons and Al Virchaux, attachés at the morgue. These two were attracted by the cry for help uttered by the Reinking boy as he fell under the tough's bludgeen.

The descriptions were broadcast and shortly after Reinking died at midnight in the Emergency hospital three young men were arrested by the San Francisco police and, according to Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen, their appearances tallies with the descriptions of the slayers.

The three under arrest are:
CHARLES T. WHALEN, 24, years old, laborer.

ARTHUR GONZALES, 24, laborer.

GEORGE ROSE, 28, seaman.

They were taken into custody at 1 o'clock this morning by Policeman Raymond O'Connell, in San Francisco, who says he saw them acting in a suspicious manner while they were driving a small automobile along the Embarcadero near the Ferry building.

CONFLICTING STORIES TOLD TO PATROLMAN.

When questioned by O'Connell, the three told conflicting stories as to their presence on the Embarcadero at so early an hour in the morning, and also as to where they had come from.

At the Harbor police station an iron bar and a silver watch were found on the floor of the automobile. All three men denied ownership of either of the articles.

The three were booked on a vagrancy charge, with bail fixed at $1,000 apiece. Later they were sent to the detective bureau for further investigation. They will be turned over to the Oakland police if a request is made for them, otherwise they will be held on the vagrancy charge, according to Police Lieutenant Steven Bunner.

VICTIM SUPPORT OF MOTHER AND SISTER.

Reinking, who has been supporting his mother and sister on his earnings as a bell boy at the Athletan-Nile club, was on the first day of his vacation when he met his death within a few blocks of his home.

Accompanied by his sister, Miss Tecla Reinking, he had gone for a walk early in the evening. His sister became tired and left him at Nineteenth avenue and East Twenty-second street, to continue walking by himself.

Ten minutes after this separation Reinking, walking south on Twenty-second ave., approached East Fourteenth street. A moment later he fell into the gutter with blood gushing from a crushed skull.

Three young men ran north on Twenty-fourth avenue.

ALL NIGHT SEARCH AT MORGUE SCENE VAIN.

Before the attaches of the morgue and other witnesses could start in pursuit of the assailants they had disappeared and an all-night search by the police in this city did not uncover a clew to their identity.

Reinking was taken to the Emergency hospital and died shortly after midnight. He did not recover consciousness and because of lack of marks of identification on his person his relatives were not found.

Early this morning his sister phoned the police station to re-

SCHOONER RUNS ON ROCKS IN FOG

Arctic Is Expected to Reach
S. F. Under Tow of Two Rescuing Craft.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—The steam schooner Arctic, which went on the rocks in a dense fog at Saunders reef, seventy miles north of here, late last night, was expected to reach here today under tow of the schooner Brunswick, assisted by a Red Stack tug. Captain Linder and ten members of his crew remained aboard, ten being transferred to the Brunswick following the crash. According to reports received here the Arctic was able to back off the rocks under her own power, but is leaking badly. The Admiral Schley and the Brunswick both answered her distress calls.

After backing off, it was discovered that the Arctic had struck the wreck of the steamer Whittier, which lies on the rocks under 25 feet of water at that point.

The Arctic proceeded to Arena Cove, where the Point Arena life-saving crew stood by in a power-boat, until it was determined that the vessel would remain afloat.

The Arctic struck at 11:15, according to the wireless messages received here.

Schooner Arrives
After Many Mishaps

BEAUFORT, N. B., July 5.—(Delayed.)—The trading schooner Teddy Bear, which for months was believed to have been lost in the Arctic ocean following a heavy storm last Fall, arrived here last night after a series of mishaps believed to have occurred in the estuary in October, when she was driven ashore near East Cape, Siberia.

Partly repaired, the vessel was again forced on the beach and frozen in and a few weeks later her engine was disabled. The crew lived on greatly reduced rations until recently, when the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Bear arrived with provisions.

More Than 6000 Delegates Attend Opening Sessions of Thirty-Fifth Annual Convention of the Union

With a representation, said by officials to be the largest to ever attend a convention in the history of the state, present, the second session of the thirty-fifth annual conclave of the Christian Endeavor Union of California got under way today at the civic auditorium.

Actual registrations today showed that every one of the expected 6000 and some delegates were in the city. When the convention was formally opened last night in the auditorium theater, every seat in that section of the building was filled, and delegates standing, lined the aisles, the space at the back of the auditorium and even the wings of the state. The crowd was said by city officials to be one of the largest that ever gathered in the building.

GOLD AND PURPLE
COLOR AUDITORIUM.

The auditorium theater is decorated in flowers, Christian Endeavor flags of gold and purple, banners and colored lights in honor of the visitors. On the stage an electrically lighted purple cross serves as an appropriate background for the organization's religious work, which will occupy the majority of the time of the five-day session.

The second convention session opened in the west auditorium at 11:20 a. m. today, being called to order by Garner R. Seal, first vice-president.

The principal address of the day session was by Assemblyman T. M.
Wright of San Jose, author of the "Wright bill." His subject was "Prohibition Enforcement," and he told the convention some of the problems encountered daily by the officials who are working to enforce the Volstead act.

De Valera Flees While Pretending To Carry Corpse

LONDON, July 6.—(By International News Service.)—Eamonn de Valera, commander of the republican irregulars in Ireland, escaped from Dublin on Tuesday night disguised as a house driver, according to a Dublin despatch to the Evening News today. After slipping from the Gresham hotel during a lull in the firing, de Valera put on a coachman's coat and battered plug hat and passed through the Free State lines in a southerly direction, pretending to carry a corpse in his hearse.

Suppression of the Irish revolt flared up in Dublin week-ago is practically completed. Winston Churchill announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

INSURGENTS OF IRELAND PURSUED

Beaten in Dublin, Rebels
Are Expected to Carry On Guerilla Warfare.

CORK, July 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Word has reached here that the cable station of the Commercial Cable Co., of New York at Waterville, the terminus of the trans-Atlantic cables, has been threatened by the irregular Irish forces, who have seized property of the company and its employees, terrorized the families of the employees and have demanded the key to the school quarters to be used as general headquarters of the Irish forces.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, July 6.—Although the republican irregular army has been broken up and all the rebel strongholds in Dublin have been captured by Free State troops, the Irish provisional government today set about preparing for long guerilla warfare in the southern and western counties.

Michael Collins, chief of the Irish provisional government, issued a call to the citizens of the Irish Free State to join the regular army for six months' active service. The strength of the regular army is estimated at 20,000 men, but Collins believes this is not enough for the next movement—a campaign to clear up the southern and western districts.

DE VALERA ESCAPES
FROM DUBLIN.

Reports that Eamonn de Valera, commander-in-chief of the irregulars, had been wounded and captured proved untrue. It is understood that De Valera escaped from his headquarters in the Gresham hotel on Tuesday night and is now at Bray, in County Wicklow, directing the reorganization of the rebels in that district.

Among the 500 rebel prisoners captured by the Free States are a number of women who were fighting in the republican ranks. They include Mrs. MacSwiney of Cork and Miss Barry. The whereabouts of Countess Markiewicz, who was in command of the Communist faction of the republican forces, were unknown when this despatch was written.

BRUGHA REPORTED TO BE DYING.

In addition to "Rory" O'Connor, former commander of the irregulars, who was captured when the Four Courts building fell, the Free States have captured Cathal Brugha, De Valera's chief aide, and R. D. Barry. Brugha was wounded in the final assault of the regulars upon the Granville hotel.

When the garrison surrendered Brugha rushed upon the Free State soldiers with a revolver in his hand, firing right and left.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Brugha was reported dying.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY IS HEAVY.

DUBLIN, July 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—For eight days of the fighting in Dublin the casualties are given as 61 dead and 259 wounded, not including four snipers shot dead in Marlborough street and the wounded taken prisoner from the republicans' Sackville street stronghold.

The material loss to the citizens of Dublin is very heavy. The value of the buildings destroyed is estimated at between £3,000,000 and £4,000,000, the loss of very large sums in rentals and probably considerable unemployment.

ty Tipperary, according to advices

100 HURT IN N. Y. SUBWAY TRAIN BLAZE

500 Passengers in Panic 75
Feet Underground As Gas Fills Ten Crowded Cars
During Noon-Time Rush

Men, Women and Children in Wild Battle in Darkened Tube; Flare Up of Tram Only Illumination

By JACK DARROCK,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Little children were trampled, men and women fought desperately in the darkness, and more than 100 persons were overcome in a panic when a short circuit in the Lexington avenue subway was followed by smoke and fire today.

Panic-stricken men, women and children struggled in a darkness lit only by red flames as fire crept about the cars of express trains.
Ambulances from all directions were rushed to the Fifty-third street station, whence streams of passengers, faces blackened, many choking and gasping for air, emerged.

An explosion, which was followed by the short circuit, occurred at the vicinity of Sixtieth street. Passengers, panic-stricken, groped their way to Fifty-third street before reaching the open air.

CHILDREN'S AND WOMEN'S CLOTHES TORN IN FIGHT.

Children and women appeared from the subway exits with torn clothing and terrified faces, indications of terrible struggles.
Lights went out when the short-circuit occurred and all trains were halted.

Firemen with ladders descended onto the express tracks, which were even deeper than usual at the point where the flames started to spread.

Hospitals in the vicinity quickly were crowded with injured.
Ambulances dashed to and fro,
those at the scene lining up ranks to take away persons overcome.

A northbound Jerome avenue express was leaving Grand Central station today when a fuse in the third coach blew out. Fire extinguishers were called into play by the train crew.

ONE MAN SAVED AFTER HOUR OF FIRST AID.

A thick black smoke followed, which nearly suffocated many passengers.
Harry Yampolsky, one of the first to be overcome, was saved after firemen had worked over him with pumpkin for more than an hour.

Three hundred policemen took charge of the situation, throwing out a cordon and holding back thousands of persons who were drawn to the district by reports of a disaster.

CARS FILLED WITH GAS
75 FEET UNDERGROUND.

NEW YORK, July 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Panic raged 75 feet underground today when fire broke out on an uptown Lexington avenue subway express car at Fifty-ninth street. Deadly gas filled the ten cars when guards attacked the small blaze with fire extinguishers, killing about 150 men, women and children before they were affected by the fumes.

When the crawling through the darkened tube to tunnels and climbed or were lifted to the streets,
two levels above the express tracks.
The train carried about 500 passengers. A down town express on reaching the spot where the other had halted, also was filled with fumes. Windows were broken as the passengers fought to escape.

Unaware that the electric current had been switched off four minutes after the fire broke out in a furrow, passengers crawled along the tracks on hands and knees, fearing the dreaded third rail.

The fire started in the motorman's box after a fuse had blown out.
There was a flash of flames and the smoke swept through the crowded train.

When the emergency brakes were applied and the train came to a grinding halt, guards threw open the doors and passengers made a mad scramble to escape. Those unable to walk were carried from the cars to the Fifty-ninth street station. Fire ladders also were dropped through iron gratings at Sixty-first street and unconscious women lifted to the street.

RESERVES CALLED OUT TO CONTROL CROWDS.

The injured were stretched out on sidewalks for several blocks.
A temporary hospital was organized and 14 pumpkins were used into operation. The crowd of spectators soon became so dense that police reserves had to be rushed to the scene.

Relief work soon got under way.
Besides the doctors who hastened to the scene in ambulances, many other physicians jumped into tax-ies in many cases bringing their office nurses with them.

Bloomington's department store at Fifty-ninth street and Lexington avenue promptly organized a fire brigade of 75 employees, who dashed into the subway to aid in the rescue work. The store's drug department was riddled for supplies and pumpkins.

JEFFERSON CITY, Ill., July 6.
(By International News Service.)— Governor Arthur M. Hyde today declared that unless conditions become worse at Slater, where striking Chicago & Alton shopmen "deported" company employees, he will not send State troops there. The governor's announcement was made following a conference with Adjutant-General Hays.

Governor Hyde has sent Captain R. A. Johnson of the Booneville National Guard company to Slater as observer.

SLATER, Mo., July 6 (By the Associated Press.)—Railroad officials today awaited word from Governor
A. M. Hyde before making further plans for reopening the Chicago & Alton shops here, from which a crowd of more than 500 strikers drove 18 strikebreakers yesterday.

After the strikers had cleared the town of strikebreakers, had drawn a deadline around the shops beyond which strangers were not allowed to pass, and had established guard posts at various points, they settled down to a policy of watchful waiting.

Union chiefs and town officials are one in declaring they expect no trouble if the railroad does not attempt to import strikebreakers.

Eighteen strikebreakers were taken from the shops late yesterday in automobiles to the edge of the town and told to "beat it and keep going." Ten more, who escaped the first deportation by hiding in a foreman's car in the yards, were placed on a Chicago train last night.

Trains going through Slater were watched by a crowd of 150 strikers, who took command of the railroad station and searched the trains to be sure they carried no strikebreakers.

The strikers say they want no violence and do not expect to have any. They are frank to add, however, that they do not intend to permit the opening of the railroad shops with outside labor.

Railroad men control the local government and furnish most of the subsistence of the town, of which the chief industry is the railroad shops. The mayor, a clerk in the shops, says he has not heard of any violence. The only threat has been that of a strikebreaker, who was later released to union men and told to leave town after being held in jail four hours.

Slater is a town of nearly 4000 residents, 700 of whom are employed by the railroad. Most of the men are Americans by birth, many of them having lived here all their lives. There is no so-called radical element here, although all are union supporters. There are few foreigners here.

The sheriff of Saline county, John Logsdon, agreed with local officials in discounting the probability of any trouble developing.
He spent only half an hour here last night, then went to his home in Marshall. His force consists of two deputies and one office assistant. Acting on a telephonic advice of Governor A. M. Hyde last night, he endeavored to enlist a small force of deputies, but declared he was unable to find persons willing to serve.

Governor Hyde, appealed to yesterday by railroad officials for 100 soldiers to be used as guards, indicated last night that he did not consider the situation warranted
the use of troops.

BRAZIL REVOLT QUELLED AFTER SIEGE IN BAY

Heavy Gun Fire By Federal Forces Quickly Bring Rebel Surrender.

By MILES W. VAUGHN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
BUENOS AIRES, July 6.—Private despatches received here shortly before noon announced that Fort Copacabana, near Rio de Janeiro, surrendered to the Brazilian government forces at 10 o'clock today.

The roar of heavy guns thundering in Rio bay early today told the last effort of insurgents, who revolted yesterday in holding out against overwhelming numbers of government troops.

Brazilian government forces rapidly dominated the situation which resulted from the revolt by groups of the army and navy.

A statement to the United Press by the president's secretary said: "The military school and the 15th battalion of the army revolted and marched toward Villa Militar. En route, the party encountered a group of government troops which defeated the rebels.

"All the sailors and a majority of the soldiers in Fort Copacabana revolted. The fort was surrounded by land and sea and has surrendered."

The center of the city of Rio continues quiet. Practically all business houses were closed throughout Wednesday afternoon. Some cannonading was audible in Rio during the afternoon.

President Pessoa met the situation by asking the chamber to declare a state of siege for 30 days in Rio and the federal district, which the chamber unanimously approved. The senate is expected to act promptly upon the measure.

Strikers' Wives to Open Commissaries

NEW YORK, July 6.—Wives of striking railroad shopmen in the Bronx made plans today to open commissaries to feed the strikers and their dependents.

A woman's auxiliary of female relatives of the strikers at the Van Nest shops of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway was formed, with Mrs. H. Frank as president. The commissaries will be opened in connection with co-operative shops already maintained by the Van Nest shopmen.

LONDON, July 6 (By the Associated Press).—Eamonn de Valera, the Republican leader, in a message addressed to the people of the United States, declares the pact between the Irish parties has been torn up, that civil war has broken out, that the Dail Eireann is not allowed to meet, and that the provisional government has assumed a military dictatorship, supported by the British big guns.

"The danger to Ireland which I fear most, and warned people of—civil war—has come upon us," says De Valera in his message. "Soldiers of the army of the Republic have been attacked by forces of the provisional government."

THREE SUSPECTS IN BOY SLAYING NABBED IN S. F.

Victim of Oakland Killing Identified As Sister Reports Him Missing.

port that her brother was missing. She described him, and was informed that it was her brother who had fallen a victim to the gangsters.

"STICH A GOOD BOY," WIDOWED MOTHER SAYS.

Later this morning the boy's mother, who is prostrated with grief, accompanied by her son, Julius, of 216 Twenty-seventh avenue; her married daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Taylor, of San Francisco, and Miss Tecla Reinking, gathered at the morgue to identify the boy.

"He was such a good boy," sobbed the widowed mother. "He was always industrious and had no bad habits. He did not run around with other boys, and was not intimate with any of them. His life was all wrapped up in it."

"Three years ago we came here from Chicago. He secured employment as a bellboy at the Athenian Nile club and his employers were always well satisfied with him."

"HE DID NOT HAVE AN ENEMY IN THE WORLD."

"Last night he came home for his vacation. He had received his salary and we were all happy in anticipation of the good times we would have during the next few weeks."

"After dinner he put his salary in his vest and invited his sister out for a walk. They walked for quite a while, and when Tecla became tired he said he would remain out a short time longer."

"He did not have an enemy in the world. He was a good boy."

The actual attack on Reinking was not witnessed by anyone, according to the police. The two teachers of the morgue heard him cry and saw the men run away.

Three passersby, Manuel Perry, 2832 East Eighth street; Louis Dlesnovski, 2819 East Ninth street, and Frank Potter, 2809 East Ninth street, also saw Reinking fall and the men run away, but they did not see the boy struck.

LAWLESSNESS MUST BE CURBED: PETERSEN.

"Last night's murder was not an isolated case," said Captain Petersen today. "It is one of a series of hold-ups and beatings of innocent persons that have been constantly taking place for some time. Young men in East Oakland seem to be running wild. A reign of terrorism is in existence. This lawlessness must be curbed."

Prior to the murder last night, Chief of Police James T. Drew had taken steps to curb the activities of the gangsters, according to a statement issued today:

"Of course, we do not know definitely that this poor boy was killed by members of an organized gang of hoodlums," but it none-the-less a situation which cannot be permitted to obtain."

"Recently Captain Thorvald Brown of the Eastern station told me that he was receiving reports from various parts of the district along that young men were hanging around, causing trouble."

"Heretofore the disturbances have been of minor account, but recently several persons were beaten up in unwarranted attacks. I instructed Captain Brown to make every effort to clean up the district, and only last night five young fellows were arrested."

"We will clean up the gangs whether they have connection with this case or not. Gangs are the breeding places of criminals of the future and they cannot remain, if we have to use every policeman in the department."

Captain Brown said today that the young men in the district have been getting unruly and that toughs from other parts of town were coming into his district in automobiles, beating people up and driving away again.

"There is a gang around Twenty-third avenue," said Captain Brown, "that comes into my district in automobiles, and when we give a call they rush back to their own camping grounds. It was the Twenty-third avenue gang that beat up a man coming out of a dancehall the other night. I am sure."

"We will clean up the gangs, no matter what the cost."

AUTOPSY WILL BE PERFORMED TONIGHT.

An autopsy on the body of Reinking will be performed this evening at the morgue, and an inquest will be held within a few days. Officers from the inspector's department are investigating the various angles of the case and expect to have the murderers arrested within a short time.

"We have a good description of the men," said Captain Petersen, "and have a number of valuable clues. I do not know whether or not the men held as suspects in San Francisco are the right ones, but today's investigation will determine their guilt or innocence."

At the Athenian Nile club comrades of the slain youth and club members spoke of him in laudatory terms and urged the justice be meted out to his assailants.

Reinking was one of the most popular attendants at the club, according to the members, and had no bad habits. He has been there for more than a year and was rated highly by the members and manager of the institution.

Nebraska Loses Moses Kinkaid, Settlers' Friend

LINCOLN, Neb., July 6.—(By the Associated Press).—Moses P. Kinkaid, friend of the settler on the public domain, father of the Kinkaid homestead act, and beloved grand old legislator of Nebraska, died in Washington today, after serving his state in Congress for twenty years.

Graduating from the law school of the University of Michigan in 1876, Kinkaid went to O'Neill, Neb., then a small community in a sparsely settled land. He studied the problems of the early settler and was able to acquire valuable information concerning the nature and value of public lands which he afterward presented to Congress in enactment of laws that ensured to the benefit of the homesteader of the west.

His first venture in politics was as a candidate for state representative from Holt county. Later he became state senator. In 1883 he was elected district judge of Holt county, and served in that capacity for thirteen consecutive years. It was while judge that he became a candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional district, which he had served since then.

Double Probe Into Rail Wreck Opens

CHICAGO, July 6.—(By International News Service).—Two investigations were begun today into the wreck near Porter, Ind., late last night, in which one person was seriously injured and more than fifty slightly hurt. The wreck occurred when a Pere Marquette passenger train, Chicago-bound, collided with a New York Central locomotive.

The investigations were undertaken by the railway officials and county authorities, to learn if the switch, which diverted the passenger to a sidetrack where the locomotive was standing, was defective or had been left open through error or malice.

Primary System Is Declared Failure

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Predicting a nation-wide onslaught on the primary system of nominating candidates and a return to the old convention plan, Senator New of Indiana today declared that the Newberry case was a direct result of the primary system. He asserted the plan is a "conspicuous failure" and the breeder of political corruption and inefficiency in public service.

Vatican Police in Mutiny; Disarmed

LONDON, July 6.—(By the Associated Press).—A Central News despatch from Rome says the gendarmes serving in an honorary capacity in policing the Vatican mutinied this morning, crying out, "Long live the pope; death to the commandant." They were immediately disarmed and the barracks occupied by Swiss guards.

MANY SLAIN IN GERMANY DURING SERIES OF RIOTS

Barracks Attacked by Mob to Disarm Police; 18 Wounded, 2 Killed.

BERLIN, July 6.—(By the Associated Press).—Serious disturbances occurred in the course of Tuesday's demonstrations in several places throughout the republic. One man was killed and 19 wounded at Wiesbaden; a workman was killed at Waldenburg near Breslau; several persons were wounded at Bingen, near Freiburg, while at Sommerschenburg thousands of workmen from surrounding districts poured in and forced miners to stop work. Police reinforcements dispatched from Magdeburg were disarmed by rioters, and firing continued all night long. Three rioters were killed and many wounded. Count Gnesaus' castle was looted.

Rioting also occurred at Zwickau in Saxony, lasting far into the night. Much firing occurred between rioters and police and the mob finally gathered outside of the police barracks and ordered the police to surrender arms. When the latter refused fighting was renewed. Ten workmen and eight policemen were wounded and one workman and one policeman killed.

LONDON, July 6.—The rioting at Sommerschenburg, Germany, began when workmen during the demonstrations demanded that Count Gnesaus' agent lower the imperial flag from the castle, says a Berlin despatch to the Times. Five men are reported killed and ten wounded during the fighting.

Santa Fe Station Men May Go Out

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—A local eddy of the shopmen's strike may drag in members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees on the coast Santa Fe lines, it appeared today.

Following a meeting in the Labor Temple last night, H. P. Mathews, who claims to be president of the latter organization, charged that railroad executives had refused to meet him and that he had referred his standing to the federal rail labor board.

"Whether we strike depends on the board's action on my complaint," Mathews said today.

Santa Fe officials said Mathews was not an employee of the road and that he had no standing with the labor board.

Assassination of Hindenburg Denied

BERLIN, July 6.—(By the Associated Press).—A semi-official denial was issued today of persistent rumors that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and Prince Eitel Friedrich, son of former Emperor William, had been assassinated.

Hague Stirred By Assassination Tale

LONDON, July 6.—A rumor that an attempt had been made to assassinate the Russian delegates to the Hague conference, caused considerable excitement in the Dutch capital this morning, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch. There was no confirmation of the report up to noon.

Both the police and the Russian delegation at The Hague denied that any attempt at assassination was made.

The report probably grew out of the action of the police in turning back from the Dutch frontier fifteen Russians, said to be monarchists, who were traveling under false passports.

Amundsen's Flight Is Delayed By Ice

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS, LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SEATTLE, July 6.—Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, who plans an airplane flight from Point Barrow, Alaska, across the North Pole to Spitzbergen or Grant's Land, has been delayed by adverse ice conditions in Bering Sea. His ship, the Maud, probably will not reach Point Barrow before July 20, according to word received here today by H. H. Hammer, the explorer's American representative.

Captain Amundsen had originally planned to hop off from Point Barrow about July 15.

and that his appearance would only have caused confusion in the ranks of the shop crafts who had their orders to strike.

The railroad generally were advertising for men today to take the places of the striking shopmen and strikers were reported at many points to be drifting back in uncertain numbers to their old jobs. This back current continued in the face of repeated assertions by shop craft leaders that the strike was virtually 100 per cent effective.

Ultimate to strikers to return to work by the early part of next week or forfeit all seniority rights still stood effective in railroad shops today.

By JOHN L. SPIVAK.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, July 6.—In a brief formal statement Jewell took issue today with the statement of Hooper that the shopcrafts unions who joined in the strike have not been "outlawed" by the labor board. The statement said:

"The letter itself (Hooper's letter of yesterday) has not yet reached me but I can, on the basis of press reports, say that the mere declaration that the organizations of employees who have or may have as their legal right to decline to accept the dictates of the labor board, are not to be 'outlawed' does not remove or annul the official action of the board. The language of the resolution clearly provides that the shopcrafts organizations are to be supplemented by an organization of what may be termed 'whitewashed' strikers."

"What reply, if any, shall be made will be determined upon receipt of the letter, which will be given careful consideration."

Locomotives Sent To Shipyard, Claim

Three Western Pacific engines arrived this morning at the Moore Shipbuilding Works for repairs, according to a statement by J. C. Goad, who has charge of the railroad shops strike situation in the Eastbay. Goad said that some of the men in the shipyards protested when ordered to work on the engines, claiming, in so doing, they placed themselves in the position of strikebreakers.

One of the engines sent to the shipyards for repairs was W. P. engine No. 100, the cab of which was off, according to Goad.

Southern Pacific officials at the West Oakland yards declared that a few of the men, some forty, had obeyed the company's ultimatum and had returned to work at 7 a. m. this morning.

Goad claimed that only eighteen men were working in the Sacramento shops, that the remaining shopworkers, in Stockton walked out yesterday and that the workers at Tracy did the same. According to Goad only three men returned to work in Oakland, out of a total of 2000 strikers.

Railroads Give Out Strike Figures

CHICAGO, July 6.—Several railroads entering Chicago today reported that a majority of the men were still out on strike. Officials of a number of the roads announced that after July 10 the men who did not return to work would lose all seniority rights, and will be taken back only as new employees.

The report follows:
Chicago & Northwestern—Between 7000 and 8000 men out on strike.
Illinois Central—60 per cent at work.
Santa Fe—3500 out of a total of 15,000 at work.
Burlington—1400 out of a total of 15,000 at work.
Rock Island—8000 out on strike.
Southern Pacific—50 per cent out.
Union Pacific—75 per cent out.

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—Striking shopmen of the Central Region, Pennsylvania System, were today notified that unless they returned to work by noon next Monday and "are accepted" would be marked "out of the service."

members of the oilers and stationary firemen's union at the Rock Island shops at Valley Junction walked out in sympathy with shopmen today.

Men Seek Old Shop Jobs, Claim

Assertions of Rail Chiefs Are Denied by Union Leaders.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Four hundred and thirty-four striking shopmen returned to work on the first shift this morning in the two general Southern Pacific coast shops at Sacramento and Los Angeles, thereby saving their seniority, pensions and past privileges, Southern Pacific officials announced today.

Three hundred and thirty strikers returned to their jobs in the Sacramento shops and 104 in the Los Angeles shops, officials said. This, they pointed out, is in addition to the men who did not work out at all in addition to those who had already returned.

More men are expected by company officials to return to work on later shifts during the day, which begin up to midnight.

General Manager Dyer, in a recent appeal to strikers to reconsider their walkout, promised they would retain their old status if they returned on the regular shift not later than today.

L. S. Gordon, spokesman for the shopmen in six western states, said he discounted the Southern Pacific statement "about 100 per cent." The outlook is "pretty good," Gordon concluded.

Gordon said he had telephoned union headquarters at Sacramento and been told that not a striker returned to the Southern Pacific shops there today, and that the only men working were those who never walked out.

The first complete division report received at the S. P. headquarters came from Tucson, Ariz., where 75 men were said to have returned to the shops this morning, making a total of 475 shopmen at work, with 245 still out. The Tucson division extends from Yuma, Ariz., to El Paso, Texas.

SACRAMENTO, July 6.—Southern Pacific officials here today issued figures showing that 627 men who were affected by the walkout here last Saturday have returned to work. Union men say 1869 are on strike.

According to company officials, 225 machinists, 50 boilermakers, 60 sheet metal workers, 75 blacksmiths, 5 electricians and 212 carmen returned to work.

FRESNO, July 6.—Forty-five Southern Pacific railroad carmen, said to be the entire number of carmen employed here by the company, will return to work this morning, according to C. B. Safford, company car foreman. The men, according to Safford, have not injured their company service record by the days they have been on strike.

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Railroad shopmen who went on a strike Saturday are "to some extent" returning to their jobs, according to statements of railroad officials here today. Contradicting the statements was the announcement of G. V. Killmer, secretary of the Joint Federation of Railway Employees, that a check of the shops would show that there were less than 250 men working, including the supervisory force.

Actual count showed that 50 Santa Fe shopmen had returned to work this morning, according to W. H. Brewster, assistant to the general manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. An additional 400 men have been hired to replace the strikers, Brewster said.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—Nearly seven hundred shopmen were on the job in three railroad shops here today at Vancouver, Wash., this morning, according to claims by Oregon-Washington, Spokane, Portland and Seattle and Southern Pacific officials.

Tour Will Take in Historic Spots Over Which Conflict Was Waged.

NEW YORK, July 6.—A pilgrimage to the battlefields, on which they fought four years ago, has been arranged for several hundred former service men by the American Legion. The tour is to include members of the Legion and its auxiliaries, which comprise the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the men who served in the World war.

The party will sail for France on the President Pierce August 5; will land at Cherbourg, and go directly to Paris, where it will be officially welcomed by the French government. During the stay in Paris trips will be taken to the French battlefields and other points of interest.

From Belgium the Legionnaires will go to London, where they will be the guests of the London Post of the American Legion and the British Legion. The party will return on the steamship Metamora, arriving at Montreal September 16.

Arrangements for the tour are in charge of John J. Wicker, Jr., of Richmond, Va., who, as tour director, has headquarters at the office of the American Legion Weekly, New York.

Broken Belt Caused Death of Aviator

JOPLIN, Mo., July 6.—The body of J. W. "Daredevil" Slim Spaulding, who died last night in the paupers' field of the Seneca cemetery at Seneca, Mo., on a hill overlooking the spot where his mutilated body was picked up yesterday afternoon.

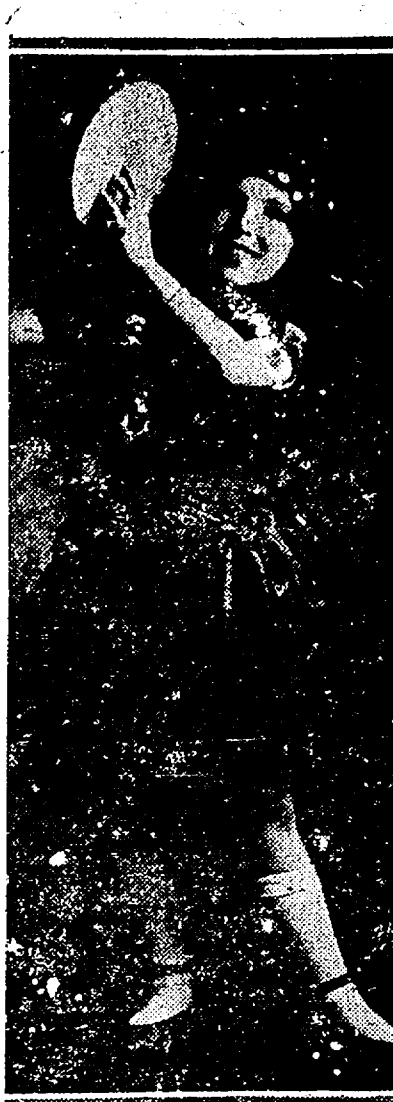

Spaulding was killed in an attempted parachute jump from a fast moving airplane while 2000 feet in the air in connection with a Fourth of July celebration. A coroner's jury yesterday found his death was caused by the breaking of the parachute belt.

Tobacco was used as legal tender during the early days of American colonies.

It is a picture full of thrills from beginning to end and in spite of three villains he comes out at the finish. You can't afford to miss this wonderful picture and it is all free for TRIBUNE-American kiddies.

The TRIBUNE will have nearly a score of its noted Juvenile Troup on hand to entertain you as only they can. Two new members who will appear are Donna Dunbar and Annabelle McLaughlin, two clever little performers. Others who will take part are the "Five Adorables," Lalla Jenkins, Eleanor Daneri, Kathleen Hampton and Josephine and Bernice de Pasquale, coached in a singing and dancing act by Emma Gage.

Wilma Bradbury, The TRIBUNE's little "nightingale," Bernice Blundell and June Savage, Evelyn Cavanaugh, Master Harold Joseph Perry, The TRIBUNE's "Boy Caruso," and little Shirley Ives will also be on the program. So you are sure to see a great show.

The TRIBUNE also has a special announcement to make which will be of interest to every boy and girl, so be on hand sure and enjoy a great show free as guest of The TRIBUNE and American Theater.

S. F. POLICEMAN SHOT BY BANDIT DIES OF WOUNDS

Joseph Walsh Succumbs to Wounds; Transfusion Fails to Save Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—A police guard of honor is standing vigil about the body of Joseph Walsh, slain policeman, who died last night as the result of wounds received in a gun fight with robbers. The body is at a local undertaking parlor.

Walsh's death occurred at the San Francisco hospital. Surgeons had worked over him for 36 hours and two persons had given a portion of their blood for transfusion operations.

Walsh's body was pierced by two bullets, one of which penetrated his intestines. He was shot at Sacramento and Taylor streets at an early hour Tuesday morning.

Two blood transfusion operations were performed on Walsh on Tuesday. George Dale, a 22-year-old cowboy, offered the first pint and

FIGHTING PARSON TAKES JOB AS DOCK MARKER

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Fred R. (Kid) Wedge, known as the fighting parson, Wisconsin lumber-jack, San Francisco vice crusader, Arizona school teacher, Harvard student and veteran of many battles of the prize ring, is now employed as a dock marker in the harbor district here.

"I am a longshoreman in every sense of the word," he said. "I asked for the toughest longshoreman job they had and I got it. I feel I can get a better understanding of the men by toiling with them. And I'm not accepting a nickel for my preaching, and I preach to them every noon hour and every Sunday."

The police are making every effort to find a clew as to the whereabouts of the four highwaymen with whom Walsh was fighting when he was shot.

George Mitchell and John Riordan, the latter of Glenn Park, were held up by the bandits at California and Jones streets a short time before the shooting occurred.

Riordan, in his report to the police, says that after the thugs robbed him they told him to "beat it." He obeyed and as he left he saw the thugs knock Mitchell down. The police are trying to locate Mitchell in an effort to learn further details of the shooting.

Lady Wilson May Run For Commons

Going On a Vacation?

The Bowman Drug Co. is featuring its Vanishing Cream that seems to fit the requirements of discriminating people better than any similar face preparation they have ever been able to obtain. It is called Vanishing Cream. A vacation trip without something of this kind to preserve the complexion is usually an unpleasant experience.—Advertisement.

Living Cost Drops; Birth Rate Rises

PARIS, July 8.—The birthrate in France during the early months of 1922 was considerably higher than in the same months of 1921. Analysts attribute this to the fact that during the past year there has been considerable decrease in the cost of living. If this continues it is expected that the birth rate will rise above that of pre-war years, for more families will be able to bear the expense of rearing children.

The kissing of the black stone, chief object of a pilgrimage to Mecca, has worn the surface of the stone smooth.

Club Amalgamation Being Considered

Amalgamation of the national organization of the Progressive Business Clubs with the National Exchange Club will be effected in the near future, according to an announcement made yesterday at the Progressive Business Club's luncheon at the Hotel Oakland.

It was stated that there are 200 National Exchange clubs east of the Mississippi river and sixty west of the Mississippi river.

Captain William I. Day, chaplain of the city and county jails, continued a discussion begun by him at a previous meeting of the club along the line of prisons and allied subjects.

He told of the destitution of families, the heads of which had been imprisoned, and told of his efforts to obtain the release of men when he learned that they were innocent of the crimes for which they had been incarcerated.

He touched upon the various methods of treating dope addicts, including the psychopathic treatment.

A HOME FREE

The Realty Syndicate Company offers you the material and lumber for a neat small cottage if you purchase one of the National Exchange Club's new homes in Chabot Heights or Columbian Park. All you have to pay is $25 down, $25 for three consecutive months, then $5 per month until your lot is paid for. You can do this with the month's rent that you are paying.

The sale last Sunday was very satisfactory and only 100 choice lots remain unsold.

Come out early Sunday, or better go Saturday afternoon, and pick your lot.

BRUCE BIELASKI BEING HELD FOR SELF-KIDNAPING

American and Lawyer Barcena Ordered in Custody
by Mexican Court.

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—(By International News Service.)—A. Bruce Bielaski, former chief of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, and Manuel Barcena, a Mexican lawyer, are in the custody of the Mexican authorities today on the charge of being responsible for their own kidnapping near Cuernavaca, state of Morelos, on June 25. The order to take Bielaski and Barcena into custody was issued by the judge of the criminal court in Cuernavaca. Judge Moreno Vacu-

of the criminal court of the federal district allowed Bielaski and Barcena to remain at their hotel under surveillance. The specific accusation against the two men is self kidnapping, which is a violation of the Morelos state laws. It was understood that Mrs. Bielaski, who was with her husband on his trip to Cuernavaca on June 25, would be summoned to testify. Her evidence will be sent to the Cuernavaca court. Judge Vaca said that the only restriction he would impose upon Bielaski and Barcena was that they must remain in Mexico until the case is disposed of. Whether it will be necessary for Bielaski and Barcena to go before the Cuernavaca court in person is expected to be decided within the next 24 hours.

TAFT HONORED BY BENCH AND BAR OF ENGLAND

The Chief Justice Is Deeply Moved by Tributes Paid at Farewell.

LONDON, July 5. (By the Associated Press).—England's bench and bar said farewell to Chief Justice Taft last night. The leading members of the Middle Temple, Britain's foremost training center of lawyers, tendered him an imposing testimonial in the ancient hall where Shakespeare acted before Queen Elizabeth and where three signers of the Declaration of Independence took legal degrees. Those present included Ambassador Harvey, Home Secretary Shortt, Lord Carson, lord of appeals, Viscount Haldane, Lordewart, lord chief justice, and Justice Darling. Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Harvey sat in the gallery. Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor, who was toastmaster, reviewed Taft's career, coupling legal accomplishments, sagacity and statesmanship with those of John Marshall and Joseph Story. Taft was deeply moved by the overwhelming reception. He could not express the gratitude he had in his heart, but realized that his greeting was tendered him in his capacity as representative of the American people. He referred to Great Britain as the great colonial empire of the modern world; everybody knew the inestimable service she had rendered oppressed and alien races. England had shown the world that there was such a thing as justice between man and man, which is blind and knows no favor. Taft explained the powers and operations of the American supreme and federal courts. The procedure there required drastic reform if speedy justice was to be secured. In the English judicial system, he continued, excited the profound admiration of American jurists and lawyers. The building of the Suez canal began in 1859 and required ten years.

WASHINGTON ST. MERCHANTS WILL HOLD BIG RALLY

Association to Have Get-Together Luncheon and Hear Noted Speakers.

The Washington Street Merchants' Association will hold a get-together luncheon at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow at which plans for the development of the street and the organization will be discussed. This will be the first open meeting of the association and already 100 reservations have been made. J. C. Marshall, secretary of the Mission Street Merchants' Association of San Francisco, will be present and tell of the success which the San Francisco merchants in the Mission district have made through co-operative effort. Carl Brookhagen, who made a prize-winning talk at the Ad Convention in San Diego last week, will repeat his talk Friday. S. E. Swan, treasurer of the association, is also on the list for a short address in which he will define the objects of the association and the purpose and plans of the Washington street merchants. The new association is founded upon the idea, according to its officers, of making Washington street the busiest street of its size in the world. They point out that through individual effort, Washington street merchants have already established the street as one of the largest business streets in the country. Through co-operation results will be felt. The officers of the association wish every Washington street merchant to attend and feel that the public announcement represents a personal invitation. Property owners in the district and business men in the adjoining side streets are particularly welcome.

GRANDMOTHERS TALK OF CLOTHES PROBLEMS

"Mrs. Brown, I have decided that we aren't old yet at all. I was just reading about a gray haired woman in Belgium who is 80 years old and was awarded a beauty prize. 'You are right. There isn't such a thing as getting old these days. I also read about a woman of 80 who is in business and reads the Physical Culture magazine and takes her exercises and is as active as any woman of 40.' 'Yes, it's out of date to get old these days. We might as well dress like the flappers and enjoy life.' 'You are right. Especially since neither of us is 60 yet, even if we do have grandchildren.' 'Speaking of grandchildren, I want to go down to Santa Cruz for a few weeks in August and visit my daughter and her husband and children. I must begin to think of clothes, now that July is here. I do want some good looking new clothes that make me look as young as I feel.' 'Yes, why don't you get some new clothes and show your young people that you are a long ways from the shelf. I will tell you a very good place to buy clothes that are very beautiful as well as reasonably priced. Cherry's at 515 13th street. Better still one may buy on credit there if one cares to.' Cherry's store for men is at 528 13th street.—Advertisement.

This Leaves the Arms Free from Hairy Growths
(Tollit Talks)
A simple method for completely removing every trace of hair or fuzz is here given. This is painless and usually a single treatment will banish even stubborn growths. To remove hairs, make a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water, spread on hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This method will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be certain you get delatone.—Advertisement.

Grosscup's Daughter Sues For Divorce

CHICAGO, July 6.—Mrs. Kathryn Grosscup Moon, adopted daughter of the late Judge Peter Grosscup, who died in 1915, filed suit for divorce yesterday from Frank Leslie Moon, charging desertion and indiscretions. Mrs. Moon received the bulk of Judge Grosscup's estate when he died several months ago. She has been in the hands of her husband for the last December and went to Coronado, Cal., where they had been married in 1915.

An Unusual Talcum Powder

Some time ago the Bowman Drug Co. concluded that there was a market for a Talcum Powder of a superior quality. Every ordinary talcum seemed to be unsatisfactory in some particular. Chemists were put to work on the problem and succeeded in producing the desired quality, but at about twice the cost of regular talcum. The powder was placed on sale, nevertheless, and within a year became so popular that the owners of business brought the cost down so that it could be sold profitably at 25¢ a can. It is called Vergo Violet Talcum. It is a true violet odor.—Advertisement.

Reception.

TOKYO, July 6.—(By the Associated Press).—The weather man's gloomy prediction of regulation, rainy season downpours during the visit of Secretary Denby of the United States navy and his party has been upset. Brilliant sunshine, which has prevailed since the visitors set foot in Japan continued today during another series of visits, receptions, luncheons and dinners. One of the women of the transport Henderson's party took hand in the oratory at the luncheon given for the Americans at the peace exhibition by Governor Ruzsami and Viscount Shibusawa. Mrs. Haines, wife of Brigadier-General H. C. Haines of the marine corps, in a brief, interesting speech, thanked the women of Japan for their cordial reception and promised that the American women would carry back to their homes a deep impression made by the welcome that had been extended to them. In the afternoon Kijuro Shidehara, ambassador to the United States, who is in Tokyo on leave, and Mrs. Shidehara entertained the Americans at their Iwasaki Villa, whose extensive grounds rival those surrounding the imperial palaces. The main event of the evening was the dinner given by Charles Fletcher Warren, American ambassador.

Rheumatism at 60

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.
Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The source of rheumatism has been traced to a blood impurity, and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars. Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can't get out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, send somebody to get it for you. Let somebody's mother begin to feel better tonight. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The largest size is the best. Buy it now.

Miss Spaulding To Be Bride This Evening

The wedding of Miss Willie May Spaulding, daughter of Mrs. Hattie May Spaulding of Colusa, and Donald Lawton of Berkeley this evening is the notable event for those who have remained in town. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Shurtliff—Mrs. Shurtliff is a sister of the bridegroom—will be the setting for the affair, with one hundred guests in attendance. The ceremony will be read at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. J.

MISS EUGENIA BEARDSLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Beardsley, of Berkeley, whose marriage to William F. Kyle of that city will take place tomorrow evening at a home wedding.

E. Squires of the First M. E. church across the bay.

The ritual will be read in the conservatory of the home that will be "done" in a profusion of summer bloom and potted plants and palms.

The bride will wear a gown of white silk crepe, heavily beaded in crystal and pearl beads, with panels at the sides of the skirt and Russian blouse effect. The veil of tulle will be caught with orange blossoms and a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and maidenhair will complete the costume.

Miss Ana Pearl Spaulding will be her sister's bridesmaid and will wear a gown of orchid tulle, made bouffant, with peasant bodice. Little Birney Seymour will be flower maiden and Master Eugene Shurtliff ring bearer.

Harry Lawton will be best man for his brother.

Miss Spaulding is a former Mills College girl. She has been the guest of the F. H. Lawtons of Berkeley and the Roy L. Shurtliffs for the past fortnight.

Lawton is a graduate of the University of California and a Phi Gamma Delta fraternity man. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Lawton of the college city.

The couple will establish their home in Berkeley upon their return from their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Madsen have returned from their honeymoon, a motor trip through the northern section of the state. Their marriage took place June 25, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Hoffmann of Eighty-seventh avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Watson have moved into their new home in the Lakeside District. They have just returned from a motor trip to the Russian river country.

Mrs. M. A. Lindblom, of Hillegas avenue, Berkeley, has received word from Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Lindblom that they are at Tahoe Tavern. Miss Yvonne Alteritz and Lindblom were married last Monday afternoon in St. Clement's chapel.

HONEYMOON AT DEL MONTE AND CARMEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reid Higgins (Marion Davis) are at Del Monte and Carmel-by-the-Sea for their honeymoon and upon their return will take up their residence in East Oakland, in a cozy apartment in the Peralta Heights district.

Their marriage took place July 1 at the Hanover street home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gideon Davis.

The service was read by Rev. Thomas A. Boyer, an old friend of the bride's family. Owing to the illness of the bride's mother the elaborate ceremony previously planned for was set aside and invitations were limited to near relatives.

The bride wore a coral gown and the home was decorated in keeping with that hue.

Mrs. Higgins was graduated from Mills college in May. She majored in English. Her parents, "The Matilla Poppy," was presented as a part of the recent commencement week.

Higgins is a business man of San Francisco. He served in the World War, two years of his time being spent in France. For the past two years he has made his home in the bay region.

BERKELEY GIRL TO PLIGHT TROTH.

The newest bride-elect to plight her troth is Miss Eugenia Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Beardsley, of Chilton way, Berkeley, whose marriage to William F. Kyle of the college city will be solemnized at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the home of the bride's parents. Only the immediate family will be guests.

The nuptial ceremony will be performed by the godfather of the bride-elect, Rev. William H. Webb who will read the Episcopal ritual. Mrs. Webb is the godmother of the bride-to-be.

Miss Beardsley attended the Anna Head school until last semester. She has studied dancing and is one of the talented younger girls of the college city.

Mr. Kyle was a lieutenant in the air service in the World War.

Mrs. William H. High and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, were guests over the Fourth at Mt. Diablo Country club, joining a large number of the Eustis set and members in the festivities.

DATE IS SET FOR NUPTIALS.

Miss Helen Bicknell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bicknell of Hillgass avenue and Howard Bennett are to be married July 29, at the home of the bride at a four o'clock ceremony. There will be no attendants.

The betrothal of Miss Bicknell and Bennett was announced at a tea at the Palace more than a year ago, when Miss Edith McLenagan was hostess.

Miss Bicknell is a former student of the University of California and a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. She is a sister of Mrs. Edward R. Ulrich Jr., (Vera Bicknell).

Bennett and his bride will later occupy a new bungalow in Northbrae on their return from their wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. McPeake and son accompanied Mr. and Mrs. William Weber and their little one on a motor trip to Lake county, where they have taken a cottage for their vacation period. Mrs. M. O'Connor will later join the party.

Don't Get Poisoned

Poison Oak can generally be avoided by an application of T. Lor's Poison Oak Remedy. The preventative must be used before coming in contact with the poison oak brush. It is helpful also in the after preparation. The B. F. Mann Drug Co. has featured T. Lor's Poison Oak lotion for many years. It comes in liquid or cream form and is odorless, and does not stain the clothing. 25c and 50c.

C. E. Delegates Are Facing Spirited Election

PRESIDENCY IS NOW CONCEDED
L. A. CANDIDATE

Other Nominations Uncertain; S. F. Seeks Next Convention.

When delegates to the thirty-fifth annual convention of the California Christian Endeavor Union, now in session, assemble in the auditorium for the annual election of officers at 11:50 a. m. Saturday, one of the most spirited contests in the history of the organization is looked for.

Heads of the union said today that, with the exception of the executive position, it is practically impossible to predict who will be chosen to the board of state officers. According to reports, Dr. Harry C. Straub of Los Angeles, present general secretary of the state union, will be the next president. If elected, he will succeed Reese Martin of Berkeley, who is the present chief executive.

Other nominations are uncertain and delegates declare that the interest manifested surpasses the enthusiasm of previous sessions. PRESIDENT STATE OFFICERS. The present state officers and superintendents are: President, Reese Martin; general secretary, Dr. Straub; treasurer, Willard Robinson Jr.; field secretary, Harry C. Straub; Pacific coast secretary of United Society, Paul C. Brown; councilor, Rev. Rowland B. Dodge; first vice president, Garnor R. Searl; second vice president, Roy Martindale; third vice president, Lawrence Downen; World's Union vice president, W. N. Jenkins; corresponding secretary, Miss Lulu M. Minter, and assistant corresponding secretary, Miss Tillie Genter.

While many of these executives are scheduled to be shoved ahead into higher positions, several "dark horses," it is intimated, will be driven into the race at the eleventh hour.

SAN FRANCISCO IN FIGHT. San Francisco today began making vigorous fight to win the international convention, working jointly with the Oakland delegation to bring the meeting to that city, the representatives were distributing literature setting forth the advantages of the city across the bay. All of the San Francisco and Oakland delegates wore gold ribbons advertising the former city to the visitors.

In the north corridor of the auditorium, where all of the convention sessions are in progress, the exhibits of the various county unions of the state are on display. These exhibits line the counters and the walls of booths, decorated gaily in the Christian Endeavor colors, blue and gold. The corridor is draped with streamers and pennants of the visiting representatives are everywhere.

GREATEST CONVENTION. "There is no doubt about this convention being the greatest in the history of the State Christian Endeavor Union," President Martin said today. "It is already an established fact. What particularly pleased me was the enthusiastic manner in which it started off. There was no time wasted, and everything got under way just as was planned. There is something doing every minute."

Vice-President Jenkins, chairman of the convention committee, echoed the president's sentiments. "It is fine to see things going so well," he said. "The convention is really too big to describe."

President Martin paid a tribute to Jenkins, who was in direct charge of making all arrangements for the meeting.

"It was an enormous task," said President Martin, "and was splendidly done."

OAKLAND FOUR-TIME HOST. Oakland has been the host of the state convention a total of four times since the date of the foundation of the Christian Endeavor movement, and holds the distinction of furnishing the first president for the California union. This was in 1888, when F. H. Adams of this city piloted the organization for one term. There were 3465 delegates at last year's meeting.

The names of the presidents, convention sites and dates since the organization of the state union follow:

F. H. Adams of Oakland, Oakland, 1888; C. Z. Merritt of Oakland, San Jose, 1889; Rolla V. Watt of San Francisco, Los Angeles, 1890; Charles F. Baker of Oakland, Santa Cruz, 1891; E. B. Hays of Watsonville, Santa Rosa, 1892; William G. Alexander of San Jose, Fresno, 1893; E. B. Hays of Watsonville, Riverdale, 1894; Dr. E. E. Kelly of San Francisco, Sacramento, 1895; Giles Kellogg of Los Angeles, San Jose, 1896; Guy W. Campbell of San Jose, San Francisco, 1897; Leonard Merrill of Los Angeles, Los Angeles, 1898; George P. Lowell of Oakland, Oakland, 1899; J. E. Conithurst of San Diego, Stockton, 1900; J. M. Warren of Santa Barbara, Santa Ana, 1901; Lionel S. Rogers of Berkeley, Santa Cruz, 1902; J. O. PROSPECTS FOR OIL IN ALBERTA ENCOURAGING. CALGARY, Alberta, July 6.—The Imperial Oil Company has encouraged a heavy flow of gas at 1870 feet in their well at Fabyan, north of Hardisty, central Alberta. Only a slight showing of heavy black oil, similar to that encountered in the wells drilled in the Viking district, is yet noticeable, sufficiently encouraging, however, to decide a continuance of drilling. The recent bringing into production of two wells in northern Montana, one at Kelvin and one at Sunburst, the latter only twelve miles from the Canadian border, gives additional hopes of prospects in the southern and central Alberta fields. It is the opinion of the geologists that the structure on which the Montana wells are located dips under Alberta.

Japanese Regent Signs All Treaties. TOKYO, July 6.—It was rumored today that the regent, Prince Hirohito, has signed all of the Washington conference treaties, formal announcement being withheld until his return from his Hokkaido tour late this month.

Fountain Pen Insurance. It's an easy matter to lose a good fountain pen on a vacation trip. The best insurance against such loss is to purchase an inexpensive substitute.

The Bowman Drug Co. are there for offering genuine Eversharp Pens for 50c, and good, plain workable fountain pens for $1.00.—Advertisement.

TRAFFIC LAW IS AMENDED AGAIN

Three amendments to the city's traffic ordinance were passed to print by the city council today, all of them affecting every autoist in town.

One ordinance forbids vehicles "standing for any length of time" in front of schools, churches, hospitals or public buildings.

One ordinance forbids parking across the exits of private garages, provided that the owner of the exit places there a sign saying "Reserved Space."

One ordinance gives any theater or movie house the privilege of placing "No Parking" signs in front of its property, from noon to midnight. The theaters and movie houses have been doing this, but there has been no legal authority heretofore.

The city council passed to print the ordinance ordering the opening and extending of Jefferson street from Seventeenth to San Pablo, the protests being only one-half of one per cent.

Protestants against the establishment of an enameling shop on Sycamore near San Pablo were finally upheld, the shop being held to be part of a "factory," and factories being excluded from residence district.

The paving of Fourteenth from Market to Poplar was ordered. Commissioner Harry Edwards was granted a 30-day leave of absence from July 15.

Garland has announced his candidacy and is making every effort to obtain the appointment.

LONE MINER IS FOUND MURDERED IN SIERRA CABIN

Sportsmen Find Remains of Man Long Dead Locked in Shack, Key On Outside.

FRESNO, July 6.—The body of a semi-nude man long dead was found on a gold mining claim in a lonely cabin 16 miles east of Bass Lake, Madera county, Tuesday, by G. H. Stivers and W. C. McBean, Fresno contractors and sportsmen, who returned here last night.

The body, which was found on the floor behind a locked door with the key outside, is believed to be that of G. W. McSwain, placer gold miner. A note on the door which read: "I have gone to the upper claim will be back this evening," was signed G. W. Mc., and was dated May 28.

A second note lying on the ground outside the cabin read the same but was in a different handwriting and was dated May 24.

Stivers, who notified Madera county officers this afternoon, declared tonight that he believed the man had been murdered on or about May 28, and had been locked inside the cabin by the man who wrote the second note.

A hand axe was found near the body, a chair was overturned, and the man's bed had been ransacked, apparently in a search for gold. The cabin windows were securely nailed down and there was only one door. A fully loaded rifle was found leaning against the wall.

The body was so badly decomposed that it was almost impossible to detect marks of violence, but the Fresno men declared that the man's head appeared to have been beaten in and two wounds appeared to have been on his chest.

The dead man was nude except for a woolen shirt which had been pulled high up under the arms. In the pocket of the shirt was a watch. The sheriff, prosecuting attorney and a constable of Madera county left for the Pines at Bass Lake and will pack over mountain trails to investigate the case.

Events Arranged by Contra Costa Club

Four events are announced by the Contra Costa Hills club. Friday evening a basket supper will be given at the canoe house in Lake-side park, followed by a launch ride on the lake. Sunday's hike will be led by Charles Ham and Ernest Cardinet through the Claremont hills, starting from the end of the Rock Ridge car line at 9 a. m.

The Mountain park campaign committee directing the movement to "Save Oakland's Sequoias" held a meeting in suite 312 Bacon block Wednesday evening. Thursday evening, July 13, in the TRISTUNE building a meeting will be held to organize and provide adequate protection of Oakland's redwoods and pine woods from fire.

EATS FIRECRACKER, DIES.
LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Walter L. Hill Jr., two and a half years old, died here after eating the kind of firecracker known as a "son-of-a-gun."

NEWS ARTIST TO WED MUSICAL COMEDY STAR

NEW YORK, July 6.—This is the wedding day of Miss Carroll McComas, musical comedy star. Her friends learned of her nuptial plans only yesterday when she and Walter J. Enright, a newspaper artist, obtained a license.

Miss McComas is not going on a honeymoon immediately, for she is to retire from the stage. She said with a smile: "Probably marriage will mean that I will do better work on the stage than I have done before."

Enright was divorced at Reno two years ago by Mabel Wright Enright, also an artist. Miss McComas never has been married before, but this is not her first romance. A year ago she was made the sole beneficiary under the will of Howard J. Flannery of Pittsburgh, to whom she had been engaged. The amount of the bequest was reported to be several millions.

Miss McComas is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McComas of Los Angeles.

MEN FATALITY SCALDED.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 5.—Three men are dying, three were so badly scalded they are not expected to recover and several others were painfully burned early today when a large steam pipe burst in the plant of the Fremont Creamery Company at Crete, Neb. The dying are: Merle Gwynn, Steve Blouzek and Louis Smarz.

NEW BROADWAY

Hilariously funny, competently acted and delightful screen entertainment, "Turn to the Right," a stage comedy of unprecedented success, is at the New Broadway theater for two days beginning today.

Two crooks and an innocent suffer at the hands of the law here the leading parts. The innocent boy has done time as has the two crooks, and the trio meets in the town where the boy lives. Here the wise men of the dark nights are turned loose on the innocent and unsuspecting country bumpkin with highly humorous results. It is a gay and a pretentious, depending upon its originality to get over.

Other features include: "The Lure of Gold," with Neil Hart, William Russell follows Saturday in "The Strength of the Pines," in "The Trap" on Sunday and Monday.

STATE

"Watch Your Step," the new picture now playing at the State theater, is a smooth comedy with many surprises. The hero, played by Cullen Landis, has a mania for speed, and is cured only by a strange series of incidents that arise after he has had his one grand smash-up with racing car. Patsy Ruth Miller plays the leading feminine role.

The vaudeville is bright and entertaining. Hazel Green with her jazz band, of Beau Brummels appears. Wilson & Larsen with their "Odds and Ends of Vaudeville" win hearty applause. Donald Roberts and the Boyne, James and Bessie Aiken also appear.

The picture feature coming to the State, Sunday stars Maelyn Ar-buckle in "The Prodigal Judge." The variety acts coming Sunday are headlined by Frank W. Stafford, assisted by Marie Stone in a wonderful fairy tale "Rip Van Winkle's Dream."

AUDITORIUM

Monday evening Ferris Hartman and Paul Steindorf and their associates will resume the pre-eminent successful comic opera season which they held away at the Auditorium theater for the past month.

In selecting "The Geisha" for the resumption of the comic opera season, Hartman and Steindorf have chosen one of the dearest, most exquisite musical comic opera ever written.

Music lovers will be glad to know that Lillian Glaser and Nona Campbell have some beautiful solo numbers. John Van and Rafael Brunetto are among the men to whom have been allotted some of the big numbers in the show. Louis Fitz Roy is the featured comedian, who will be seen to advantage in the costumes in "The Geisha" part of both Occidental and Oriental types.

ORPHEUM

"Some Wild Oats" at the Orpheum theater this week is attracting curious crowds of both sexes. So great was the attendance on the opening night that two glass doors in the lobby of the Orpheum were broken by the impatient crowds of men waiting for the show.

Men only are admitted to the night performance, and afternoon shows are for women only.

"Some Wild Oats" brings before the public the story of a young man who has never been informed of the dangers of a young woman's temptation and who learns the unpleasant truth at the price of his health and the happiness of his sweetheart whose romance is shattered as the result of the grief which follows his indiscretion.

AMERICAN

New York's rigid social barriers to a poor but beautiful girl and the possible consequences brought on by them are interwoven in a gripping photoplay, "Find the Woman," featuring Alma Rubens, which is now being seen at the American theater.

On the same bill is offered "Discontented Wives," a picture of modern romance. A weekly "Topics of the Day," and a special orchestra concert under direction of John Wharry Lewis, round out the bill.

"Across the Continent," Wallace Reid's new automobile racing thriller, comes to the American for a week starting Saturday.

PANTAGES

Robert McKim, the screen's most famous villain will appear in part at Pantages theater starting Sunday afternoon. A special feature is "The Retake," Miss Rhea Mitchell and Bert Hadley assist him.

Johnny Elliott will bring his dancing girls to Oakland on the same bill, presenting "The Dancing Studio." Four Byron Girls, a quartet, offer an exceptionally alluring act.

Nada Nooraine will appear and Will Morris, who classes himself as "just a nut," will provide a measure of laughs to balance things.

Fred La France and Billy Byron appear in a new comedy named "De-fasted."

NEW CHIMES

Constance Talmadge established an entirely new line of laughter in her latest starring success, "Polly of the Follies," which opens a three days' engagement at the New Chimes theater today. The star takes a new role in the stage-struck country girl who has her own ideas as to what Broadway productions need to spell success.

Polly Maccham is an ambitious country girl who brings the footlights, but her Uncle Silas has different ideas about woman's place. Kenneth Harlan is again seen in the role of leading man.

NEPTUNE BEACH

Al Ritchie, assisted by Kilda Ritchie and many nymphs, is doing a new athletic stunt at Neptune Beach this week. Mr. Ritchie offers to instruct free any persons in the art of keeping young and strong.

Neptune's band, led by Shultz, plays daily. Neptune's big safety racer is still a thrill.

John Weismuller, champion swimmer, is due here in a few days. The Sunday afternoon and evening dance in the pavilion continues in popularity under Eddie Murphy's direction.

FULTON

Departing far afield in plot and theme from other plays recently presented at the Fulton theater, "The Dangerous Hour" will have its premiere next Sunday.

"The Dangerous Hour" is a vivid, pulsating drama of throbbing interest—the graphic story of a young girl's indiscretion at a roadhouse and the agonizing consequences in after life when she finds herself the wife of a governor and the prey of a blackmailer.

Crane Wilbur will create the role of governor in this picture. Suzanne Caubet that of the governor's wife. Frank Darien will be the blackmailer, Charles Vogel, John Van, George Knowlton, W. Vaughn, Morgan, Henry Sumner, Eleanor Martin and Lora Rogers, also have leading parts.

The picture is a clever satire on a hypochondriac mother. "Mama's Affair" is a $10,000 prize play first presented in New York by Morosco.

T. & D.

Norma Talmadge in "Love's Redemption," a tale of the West Indies and the headline attraction at the T. & D. this week, is winning new admirers. Most of the scenes of this picture were actually filmed in the West Indies.

Other features of the current bill are "The Three Senators" in "Memories of the Old Nickleodeon," which recalls the early days of the motion picture industry; David Butler in "According to Hoyle," and a Christie comedy, "Tis the Bill," starring Bobby Vernon, are on the program.

The new week will be Tom Mix in "Fratelli Rustler," Buster Keaton in "The Boat," Shirley Mason in "Truly Yours" and the usual TRISTUNE and D. Camera News. The stage novelty will be North of the Rio Grande, featuring the "Three Senators."

CENTURY

The combination of music, mirth and pretty women is proving an attraction at the Century theater where Jack Russell and company are presenting a musical comedy review, "Allimony."

The new musical revue, which will open Sunday at the Century, will be on the "Follies" and a plentiful supply of high class humor of the well known Russell type is promised.

A special feature of the new bill is the usual TRISTUNE and D. Camera News. The stage novelty will be North of the Rio Grande, featuring the "Three Senators."

FRANKLIN

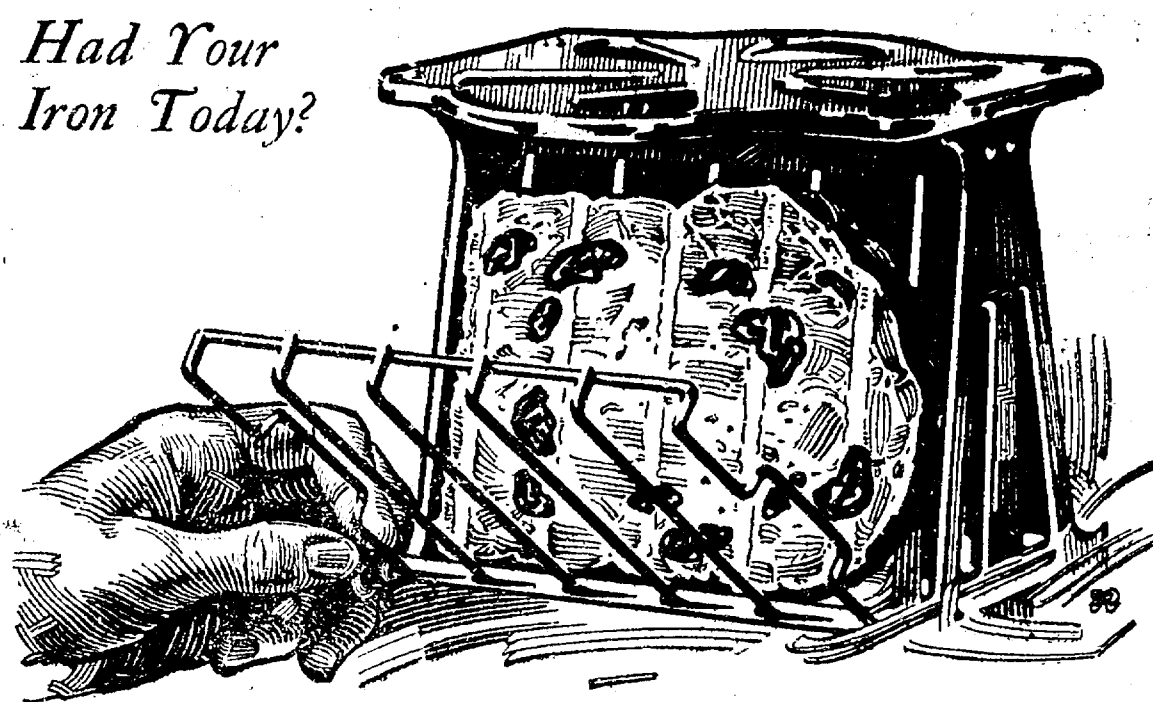

Richard Dix, as Parrish, gives a dashing, heroic performance as Governor Morris in "Yellow Men and Gold" at the Franklin.

Helene Chadwick as Bessie handles a strong romantic role and shows amazing physical courage. Rosemary Thoby, as Carmen, plays an adventuresome, regenerated through love, while Richard Tucker is the companion feature of a treasure crew.

Albino Norma in "Heat Over Heels" is the companion feature of this exceptional program. This is claimed to be her best starring character since "Mickey" was presented.

Little Ben Franklin is receiving as much publicity as Paderewski when "Cavalcade Rustic" and "On Miami Shore" is played on the piano. And when you consider that the soloist is a little dog you can't wonder at it.

Under strike conditions best explained by Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the United States Railroad Labor Board, in his statement of July 1, reading as follows:

"In this case, the conflict is not between the employer and the oppressed employees. The people of this country, through an act of Congress, signed by President Wilson, established a tribunal to decide such disputes over wages and working conditions, which are submitted to it in a proper manner. It is the decision by this tribunal against, which the shop crafts are striking.

Regardless of any question of the right of the men to strike, the men who take the strikers' places are merely accepting the wages and working conditions prescribed by a Government tribunal and are performing a public service. They are not accepting the wages and working conditions which an employer is trying to impose. For this reason, public sentiment and full Government power will protect the men who remain in their positions and new men who may come in."

Adequate provisions have been made for the full protection of all new employees, the same as old employees who have remained loyally at work.

Applicants should apply at SOUTHERN PACIFIC Employment Bureau, No. 65 Market street, San Francisco, or any of the following offices: Superintendent (Third Street Station), San Francisco; Oakland Pier, Sacramento, Stockton, Dunsmuir, Bakerfield, Los Angeles, Assistant Superintendent, Sparks, Nev., and Roseburg, Oregon; Superintendent Motive Power, Sacramento and Los Angeles, Cal.

MOTOR TRUCK CONVOY ON WAY TO MIMIC BATTLE

R. O. T. C. Students Visit San Jose in Army Trucks; Sham Battle Planned.

SAN JOSE, July 6.—This city was given a touch of the war-time thrills yesterday when 41 huge United States army motor trucks rumbled through the business district of the city en route to Monterey, from where they will continue to the Big Basin, where realistic war maneuvers are to take place starting July 14.

The big convoy was manned by United States regulars and members of the R. O. T. C. from the Oregon and Utah agricultural colleges. It included an ice truck and a generator truck which supplies electricity for the outfit, besides elaborate kitchen outfit.

Members of the outfit sleep in the same pup tents and use the mess gear that they used in the war days. The convoy stopped last night at San Juan and continued from there to Monterey this morning.

Reaching Monterey the convoy members will unload the large number of cot to be used during the national guard encampment, after which they will make a trip around the famous 17-mile drive and be honored at a dance in the evening.

From Monterey the convoy will go to Santa Cruz and from there will travel to the Big Basin. They are to be met by other units. One of the most elaborate mimic campaigns ever staged in the west will be conducted there.

Still later the units will return to Palo Alto, where they are to be given a banquet. The units will be "bombed" by planes from an air unit, provided the aviators find the camp.

Captain Paul J. Rutten is in charge of the convoy, assisted by Captains Lee W. Card, Charles Challice and E. V. Stratton, Lieut. A. N. Caldwell and Warrant Officer W. J. Murphy.

McMillan Will Be Surveyor Candidate

SAN JOSE, July 6.—Percy W. McMillan, one of Santa Clara county's best known young engineers, today formally threw his hat into the ring as a candidate for the position of county engineer and surveyor for Santa Clara county. He will oppose Irving W. Ryder, incumbent, at the August primary.

McMillan had been rumored as a candidate for some time but no definite statement had been made from him prior to today. J. G. McMillan, his father, was county engineer before Ryder, who defeated him eight years ago.

Percy McMillan was born and raised in this city and received his education in San Jose and at Stanford university. During the war he saw service with an engineers' outfit connected with the famous Rainbow division in all parts of the city and county.

Solano Has Heavy Early Registration

FAIRFIELD, July 6.—Solano county registration has reached a high point early in the year, the county being well registered at this time.

The city of Vallejo has now registered a total of 5500, and estimated total registration for the year will reach about 6000 according to County Clerk G. G. Halliday.

The outside country is well registered and the incorporated towns, all having had contests at the town meeting, have registered about 4500.

The registration for the county will approximate 12,000 this year, the registration two years ago being 15,129, 9451 of these having registered from Vallejo. Owing to the lowering of the navy yard force, Vallejo will lose approximately 3000 voters.

Registration Doubles at S. J. Teachers' College

SAN JOSE, July 6.—All enrollment records for the San Jose State Teachers' College summer school have been broken this year, according to a statement made today by Dr. W. W. Kemp, president of the college.

A total of 500 summer session students registered for the courses there yesterday, it was stated, while last year the total number enrollment amounted to but 377. It is expected that the present mark of 500 will be passed and Dr. Kemp expressed the belief that next year will find the registration in excess of 1000 to 1200.

"Our students this year are almost all taking professional work, rather than purely cultural subjects," Dr. Kemp stated. "They are for the most part either teachers who have been teaching in all parts of California and in 17 other states, or young people preparing to teach. And they mean business."

"We have a faculty of 39 professors and instructors, with a corps of nine special lecturers. We have some wonderful men here to lecture to our people—some tremendously worth while and inspiring men. Dr. Tully C. Knowles, president of the College of Pacific, is giving a series of lectures on citizenship that is to be exceptionally fine. Professor Thomas C. Trueblood, dean of the school of public speaking at the University of Michigan, is here to give us a series of readings, and then there is Prof. Richard S. French, head of the California School for the Blind at Berkeley. He will give two lectures, one on 'The Problems of Exceptional Children' and the other on 'The Education of the Blind.'"

"Dr. Frederick Fenzon, head of the Des Moines research bureau, will give two lectures late in the month on educational tests and measures for their application to the better training of boys and girls. Prof. Ambrose Sahrle, dean of the Cleveland School of Education, will give another fine lecture, giving a series of lectures on the training and improvement of teachers in service."

"Will C. Wood, state commissioner of education, will be here to address the students, as will Commissioners Dr. McNaught, Snyder and Olney."

Dr. Kemp said that the students at the summer school will find plenty of entertainment here to keep them happy.

"We plan to give them an abundant, wholesome social life," he said. "A number of college picnics, trips to Mt. Hamilton, Stanford University and other points of interest in the county are being planned under the direction of Karl Hazeltine."

Writers for, Against Amendments Picked

SACRAMENTO, July 6.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan has announced appointment of the writers for arguments for and against referendum and bond measures on the November ballot. They are:

Veterans' welfare bond issue—Senator J. N. Inman, Sacramento, for; George Edwards, Berkeley, against.

Land settlement bond act—Senator Arthur H. Breed, Oakland, for; no one requested argument against.

K. C. BULLETIN OUTLINES PLANS FOR BUILDING

New Hall to Have All Modern Lodge and Club Facilities.

SAN JOSE, July 6.—That reports of several weeks ago to the effect that the local Knights of Columbus were contemplating the purchase of the Porter building at Second and Santa Clara streets for the establishment of a K. C. A. building were correct, was learned today when the monthly bulletin of the San Jose Council, No. 873, Knights of Columbus, printed the following statement:

"The building site is now almost assured. The board of directors have agreed on the purchase price and there are only a few minor details in connection with the purchase which are being attended to. They are having the architect draw a new set of plans to conform with the dimensions of the new lot and are providing for a swimming tank, showers, basketball court, gymnasium, handball court, bowling alley, club rooms, lodge rooms, card rooms and dormitories. In all the plans the plans will be submitted to the members at our next meeting. The directors are leaving nothing undone in providing a building that will meet every requirement in making it the best fraternal building in San Jose."

"During the coming month extra efforts will be put forth to collect the unpaid payments on stock and also urging members who have not yet subscribed to do so. Payments are being made frequently, but not as fast and in large amounts as we would like. The members should realize that this building is to cost at least $50,000 and that it will be necessary that a sufficient amount be paid in so that we will be in a position to borrow the balance from the bank."

S. J. RANCHER KILLS SELF

SAN JOSE, July 6.—Tormented by ill health, Leland H. Wakefield, the wealthy Santa Clara valley rancher, last evening ended his life by firing a bullet into his brain in a tankhouse at a few feet from where he lived. A few minutes later he was found by his wife beside his limousine. Wakefield was a former Oakland man and brother of Dr. William Wakefield, physician in that city.

The tragedy was enacted at the Wakefield home, in Fruitvale avenue, west of this city. Wakefield and his wife, Mrs. Eva Wakefield, who had been spending the summer at their summer home in Capitola, yesterday it was suggested that they return to their valley home near here to secure more articles for their comfort at the coast. Wakefield drove here in their machine. It was the first time he had driven the auto in many weeks.

Upon reaching home, Wakefield assisted his wife in securing needed articles and papers in the automobile. It was about the time that this task was completed and all was in readiness for the return trip to Capitola that the husband excused himself and stepped into the tankhouse, closing the door behind him.

An instant later and a shot rang out. Mrs. Wakefield, started by the report, asked a hired man to go to the tankhouse. On it were the words: "Eva, look on the desk."

Wakefield was found dead upon the cement floor, a revolver clutched in his right hand. Later in the house searchers found a lengthy note, pleading for forgiveness and expressing the hope that no one be blamed for the deed. He stated that his inability to regain his health caused his action. Wakefield left instructions for his wife concerning the handling of his finances and property, as well as his funeral arrangements.

Junior College Election Called

MODESTO, July 6.—The election to decide the location for the junior college will be held July 17, the school board has decided. The election will be a district vote and will include the deciding among four proposed locations of 40 acres each.

The Modesto Junior College is said to be the only one thus far formed under the new law which allows state aid of $100 per average daily attendance, as well as other support. It is the aim of the college district to supply the school with picturesque campus buildings up to date buildings, with the desire to draw students from a wide radius.

American Purchases Famous Ming Bowl

LONDON, July 6.—The famous Kitchener fish bowl, the gem of the collection of curios of the late Lord Kitchener, has been purchased by an American collector and will shortly be shipped to the United States.

Very few bowls of this size and character, which are characteristic of the Ming period (1368-1644) are known to exist at the present day. It stands 2 feet 6 inches in height and has a diameter of 2 feet 8 inches.

Old Letter Tells How Man Narrowly Escaped Gallows

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 6.—The finding of a letter in an old sewing machine at Atlanta containing the confession of a man who had killed 12 Konesick, near Hottentot, Tex., October 1, 1884, and that A. L. George, convicted of the crime and sentenced to hang, was reprieved on the day he was to have been hanged, after he had witnessed the carpenters building the gallows in the jail yard. Soon afterward Sharp confessed on his death bed that he had killed Konesick and George was pardoned and returned to relatives here.

He was arrested, convicted and sentenced to die. He resolutely maintained his innocence and was reprieved on the day he was to have been hanged, after he had witnessed the carpenters building the gallows in the jail yard. Soon afterward Sharp confessed on his death bed that he had killed Konesick and George was pardoned and returned to relatives here.

Later he attempted to bring suit against the state of Texas for false imprisonment, but was prevented by a state law which provided that a special legislative enactment was necessary before suit could be brought against the state. The directors are leaving nothing undone in providing a building that will meet every requirement in making it the best fraternal building in San Jose."

THREE HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

SAN JOSE, July 6.—Three people sustained painful injuries yesterday afternoon in Santa Clara, in an automobile accident occurring at the junction of Benton and Main streets.

Mary Silva, 1439 Main street; Mary Silva, his sister, and M. Souza, 1095 Jackson street, are the three injured. Silva sustained a broken collarbone and cuts and bruises. Silva and Souza were badly cut and bruised.

The injuries were sustained when automobiles driven by the two men collided at the street intersection. Each held the other responsible for the accident and threatened to bring civil action in the matter. Victims of the crash were able to go to their homes after being treated by Dr. J. I. Beattie.

Stolen Pistol Is Found in Haystack

MARTINEZ, July 6.—An Italian farmer on the Dan McHenry ranch, near Glenview, got the scare of his life yesterday, but his fright was productive of at least one good result—it brought about the return of a gun stolen from the Al Rapp home in Alhambra valley. In picking up the Italian whirled his fork in a final swing at the end of the day's work and at the same time whirled over his head a gigantic pistol, fully loaded. He refused to touch the weapon and notified Constable Charles Palmer. Palmer secured the gun and it soon was identified as Rapp's property. It is believed the gun was stolen by Joe Dias, county jail escapee, who still is large. Dias was seen at the McHenry ranch a few days after his escape and is believed to have slept in a hay shock, in which the pistol was found.

Large Pleasanton Home Site Is Sold

PLEASANTON, July 6.—This community is to have another splendid home site to grace its eastern hills. C. A. Kingsley, retired capitalist of the east, has purchased 33 acres of land from A. W. Gale.

BOY WOUNDING HEARING DELAYED

SAN JOSE, July 6.—Because of the critical condition of one of six boys whom he is alleged to have wounded when he fired a shotgun into a crowd of 50 youths in a swimming pool in the Guadalupe creek, north of Santa Clara, S. Silva, a Japanese ranch foreman, will not face his preliminary trial before July 20, according to an announcement today at the courtroom of Justice of the Peace Charles Thompson at Santa Clara.

With the concurrence of the district attorney's office and Attorney J. B. Peckham, representing the Japanese, the case was continued until July 20 yesterday afternoon. Evidence introduced by the prosecution showed that the condition of one of the six boys is extremely critical, shot lodged behind his left eyeball being exceedingly dangerous at present.

MISSOURI OUTING

RICHMOND, July 6.—The Missouri Club of Richmond held an outing at Neptune Beach, Alameda on the Fourth. Forty-five members enjoyed the swimming, athletic sports and lunches. The August session of the club will be held on August 7 at the home of the president, Mrs. Lon Butler, 600 Ripley avenue.

HILLSBORO, Ala., July 6.—Westbound Southern railway passenger train No. 25, known as the Memphis Special, was derailed near here today, engine, baggage and mail cars going into the ditch. No one was injured. Officials of the road said the track would be cleared by noon.

Lad Forges for Wife and Babe; Judge Forgives

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—William Strickler, 19, whose wife and babe were sick, got a day's work and a check for $4 in payment.

He put a zero after the four, cashed the check and spent the $40 on his family. He admitted everything to Judge Sidney N. Reeve of the Superior Court and the public defender told how, a few days later, Strickler's wife died and how Strickler, at her grave with his 4-months-old baby in his arms, was arrested, handcuffed and taken to jail.

Then the public defender made a plea for probation for Strickler. "Probation?" thundered the court. "Why, the case is dismissed."

DEPUTY NABS YOUNG ELOPERS

MODESTO, July 6.—While deputy sheriffs were returning today with Harold E. Holtzer, 21, and Margaret Fuentes, 16, his friends were betting on whether Holtzer would be allowed to keep his pretty bride. The pair were married early yesterday in Sacramento, just five jumps ahead of a sheriff's deputy bearing a warrant which charged Holtzer with contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Holtzer, who is popular in Modesto, where he is a native, declared that he would wait until the girl is 18, if necessary.

The general impression here is that Archie M. Searle of LaGrange, uncle of the ride, will cool off and not attack the marriage. He accompanied Deputy Sheriff Bart Hill to Sacramento to return the couple here.

Miss Fuentes is one of the prettiest girls in the county. Her friends almost as a unit are back of the young couple in their elopement.

Jack Pickford to Wed in August

BOSTON, July 6.—Miss Marilyn Miller, movie star and leading woman in "Sally," which is having a run here, will be married during the last week in August to Jack Pickford, brother of Mary Pickford, and himself a movie star, in Hollywood, Cal.

This was announced today by Miss Miller's sister Claire, who said that Marilyn would leave Boston as soon as "Sally" closes and would go to New York to select her trousseau and would then start for Los Angeles.

HILLSBORO, Ala., July 6.—Westbound Southern railway passenger train No. 25, known as the Memphis Special, was derailed near here today, engine, baggage and mail cars going into the ditch. No one was injured. Officials of the road said the track would be cleared by noon.

S. F. MATERIAL DEALERS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Warrants Against 75 Persons and Firms Asked By Complainant.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Seventy-five warrants against material supply dealers and corporations engaged in dealing in building materials were sought today from Police Judge Daniel O'Brien in connection with the controversy between the Builders' Exchange and certain local contractors, which has been going on since the strike many months ago.

A Letch of 385 Fell street, through his attorneys, Thomas Dozier and Alexander O'Grady, today obtained from the judge warrants against 75 complaints against individual supply dealers, nine against corporations and 20 John Doe complaints, alleging violations of the Cartwright act. He charges conspiracy and restraint of trade.

It is alleged that Letch was refused material by the accused and that they had entered into a conspiracy with William H. George, and other officers of the Builders' Exchange, whereby they would not sell any material including plumbers' and steamfitters' supplied, unless the purchaser held a permit. This permit must bear the signature of George or some other official of the exchange and could not be obtained. Letch charged, by persons employing union men.

The complaints were taken to Judge O'Brien, who refused to issue the warrants immediately, declaring that he would have to take the matter under advisement.

GARRARD RE-ELECTED

ALAMEDA'S CITY EMPLOYEES SEEK VOTE ON PAY CUT

Plans For Circulation of Petitions to Place Question on Ballot Made.

ALAMEDA, July 6.—Plans for the circulation of a referendum petition to place the question of a pay cut on the ballot were made today as a result of the action of the Alameda city council last night in refusing to rescind its action in reducing city salaries.

More than five hundred protesters from the Chamber of Commerce, Knights of Pythias, Housewives' League, American Legion, police and fire departments and other civic and fraternal organizations were present to give expression to their feelings. In addition the Chamber of Commerce presented a petition containing another five hundred names. Despite these forms of expression Mayor Frank Otis, Councilmen C. L. Gill and C. C. Adams refused to reconsider their vote of the last meeting, and the cut in pay was ordered into effect.

DECLARE CUT NECESSARY.

Mayor Otis and Tilden contended that the cut was necessary to bring about a reduction in the tax rate, and that it was justified because government figures showed that living costs were coming down. Twice the crowd broke forth in hisses.

The protesters presented statistics from Washington, however, showing that living costs had not depreciated materially and that there was an indication that they would increase this fall. Councilman Ernest Probst led the opposition and was backed up by Councilman Al Latham. Several lively tussles took place between Otis and Probst.

Edward Babue, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the first to speak. He said that the city can do to restore the wages of the men. "We feel that $126 is not a living wage. Low wages cannot keep good men and it lowers the personnel of our departments."

WOULD UPHOLD STANDARDS.

Henry Rosenthal declared that the council was overlooking the big fact that the standard of American living had increased materially during the past few years and that every workman was trying to lift himself up and not remain at the old level. He contended that the standard could not be met with $126 a month and that the council was setting an impossible condition for the men which would only result in crippling the department of the city government.

Ernest R. Niles, representing Alameda Aerio of Bagles, presented congressional facts and figures refuting the claim of Otis that living expenses were on the downward trend.

R. Roberts of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation announced that his company was planning to launch a 20,000-ton vessel by this fall and that he would be only too glad to welcome any of the men of the police and fire departments to the shipyard in case the council took the action of reducing their pay to $126. Other speakers who presented their views were Charles Strom, E. K. Taylor, Charles Wehn, Mrs. Mary Burke, C. B. Hollywood, and Henry Schlichting.

BOBBED HAIR GIRL AT U. C. HAS DEFENDER

BERKELEY, July 6.—The bobbed-haired teacher has a real champion at the university. Contributing a letter to the "Summer Session California" in this morning's issue, the champion, however, does not disclose his name. He says in part:

"I wish some of the trustees or those upon whom the teachers depend for positions could visit the university and see the fine, wholesome girls with their bobbed hair. They would be home with different ideas on the subject. The students who have had the independence to have their locks cut carry themselves with a freedom that is to be admired. What a joy it must be to walk around without the feeling that you are a slave to the hairpin and that your hair flies free with every wind that blows. In time the majority of girls spend on their hair trying to get the bobbed effect without 'scissors' the bobbed damage, can be counteracted for one hour's radiation. May they live on a level in their new found freedom!"

The Little Girl Who Moved Away By PERCY CROSBY

Crowless City Drive Has Won Law's Support

BERKELEY, July 6.—The decision of King Chantler is being sounded in Berkeley. Residents of the college city, who have armed themselves with verbal axes in their fight on the early morning crow of the bayward ruler, were today given a new ally in the person of City Attorney Lemuel Sanderson.

That the city council of Berkeley has the right to declare the rooster a "nuisance," and to legislate against him in any manner desired, is Sanderson's finding after delving for ten days into law books and city ordinances.

From the hills to the bay have come telephone and personal calls, declaring Sanderson—all with a single thought where the rooster is concerned—and that is this:

"Of with his head!"

A specially appointed committee of the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs was received by Sanderson yesterday. C. W. Whitney, representative of the Cragmont Improvement Club, and Dr. Albert Sykes, of the Claremont Club have also requested audiences to air their grievances and those of their neighbors where the rooster is concerned.

Sanderson is at work on a report which will make to the city council covering his investigations.

Advancement of All Northern California Urged

Definite Steps For Boosting Best Region On Earth Are Taken.

Definite steps toward the advancement of Northern California as a "follow up" to the editorials printed jointly by the newspapers recently were taken at a meeting in the city hall in San Francisco today attended by members of the special committee on the movement.

The meeting was addressed by Kenneth R. Kingsbury, chairman and president of the Standard Oil company, who has worked out plans which will aid the advancement of this section of the state. After the meeting, luncheon was served at the Palace hotel.

ADVANTAGE TO ALL.

The reason for the joint movement in which all cities and towns south of the Oregon line and north of the Tehachas will participate is seen in the belief of the leaders that the region is really one and that what is of advantage to one is advantage to all.

It is the avowed plan of the committee to follow along the lines set forth in the joint editorial and get behind a great Northern California movement to sell the advantages and resources of this section of the state to the residents and visitors.

SUPPORT IS PLEDGED.

At the luncheon a number of prominent men representing various lines of endeavor, spoke briefly, pledging their support to the activities of the committee and making suggestions for a successful conclusion to the campaign.

It was the consensus of opinion that in making their joint pronouncement the editors of the bay region papers merely uttered the thoughts and resources of this every resident of Northern California, namely:

"We have the greatest region, the most varied country, the richest, happiest and best community on the face of the earth. Why don't we tell the rest of the world about it?"

Plaza Garden Soon to Become Riot of Color

The flower spaces at the City Hall Plaza gardens have been so explained that they "now comprise 12,500 square feet and will soon have about 1,000,000 blossoms open at any given time, making City Hall Plaza, or Memorial Plaza a blaze of color."

In the large bed around the London oak, the garden is surrounded by yellow pansies, according to the color scheme of Landscape Architect Howard Gilkey. The roses will remain for a second crop of blooms. The San Pablo avenue bed contains 10,000 gladioli in yellow, apricot and terra-cotta, with yellow pansies and 3000 calliopsis.

The fourteenth street bed will have delphiniums, with fawn, apricot and flame snapdragons. The big Shrine design in the east circle will remain for another month, and the Lady Washington geraniums will also stay. The fourteenth-and-Washington circle will have 3000 stocks, almost under 6000 gladioli of many varieties and colors.

The oblong and circular border-beds will be filled with Henry's Lily, orange in color, and will also include snapdragons, ruffled petunias, cocks' comb, carnations, zinnia, salpiglossis and a new shade of California poppy.

My Favorite Stories by IRVIN S. COBB

The Reunion of the Aged

There is a certain musical comedy star who is not quite so young as she once was. She still has beauty and she is just as clever and talented as ever; but it is not to be denied that a good many years have passed since she made her professional debut.

During the past season she held a road show. Business at times was not especially good and the tempers of the troupers suffered. Relations became somewhat strained between the prima donna and certain members of the chorus.

This friction was at its height when the company began a week's engagement in a middle western city. The theatre was old-fashioned and somewhat primitive in its appointments behind the stage. For example, the dressing-rooms were no better than overgrown stalls. The walls between them ran up only part way toward the ceilings so that voices in one of these cubicles might plainly be heard by those beyond the separating half-partitions.

For the opening performance the house was no more than two-thirds filled and the audience, for some reason or other, seemed rather unresponsive. The leading lady was not in a particularly happy frame of mind as she sat in her so-called dressing-room after the final curtain, removing her make-up. Next door several members of the chorus were shifting to street dress.

There came a knock at the star's door.

"Who is it and what do you want?" she demanded sharply.

"It's the house manager, Miss—," came the answer. "There's a lady out front who'd like very much to see you."

"I'm not receiving visitors tonight," said Miss— rather coldly.

"Who is this lady?"

"She tells me that she thinks you'll be glad to see her. She says that she was a chum of yours when you were at high school."

Over the dividing wall came floating the voice of a catty chorus-lady: "Wheel her in."

Uncle Wiggly Stories by HOWARD K. GARIN

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE RUG

"UNCLE WIGGLY, if you aren't too busy this morning," spoke Nurse

Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she saw the bunnies on the front porch. "I'd like to have you do something for me."

"Anything in the world that I am able to do, I will do for you," answered Mr. Longears, with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "If you want me to paint another chair or go to the store, or even try to jump over the church steeple—"

"Oh, nothing at all as hard as that!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "All I want is for you to put out the parlor rug on the grass, where it will lie in the sun."

"Has the parlor rug the rheumatism, such as I sometimes have, and are you putting the rug in the warm sun to stop its pain?" asked the bunnies.

"As if a rug ever had the rheumatism!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "It hasn't anything of the kind. But it has some moths in it, and if I put the rug out in the hot sun the bad, biting moths will go away. Please drag the rug out for me and spread it on the grass."

"I will," said Uncle Wiggly, and he did.

"Now that's all I will ask you to do now," said Nurse Jane. "You may go off and have an adventure. And when you come home this evening, I'll ask you, kindly, to sweep the dust off the rug and bring it in."

"I'll do that," promised the bunnies. Then away he hopped, leaving the rug out in the yard in the sun.

"I think the rug will be all right there by itself," said the muskrat lady housekeeper a little later. "I'll just hop over to see Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady, and ask her how many oranges she puts in her lemon pie. I'll make Uncle Wiggly a lemon pie cake."

So Nurse Jane went across the street and while she was gone the bad old Woogie Wolf came sneaking along looking for Uncle Wiggly, to nibble the bunnies' ears.

"Hum! He isn't in the bungalow! No one is there!" growled the Wolf, as he stuck his pointed nose in the open door. Both Uncle Wiggly and Nurse Jane are out. And, bless my whiskers, the rug is out, too!" he added, as he saw it spread out on the grass in the back yard.

"Ha! This gives me an idea!" said the Wolf. "Never yet have I been able to catch Uncle Wiggly and nibble his ears. He always gets away by some trick. But this time I'll play a trick on him!"

"I'll crawl under the rug and hide. Nurse Jane will never leave her best rug outdoors all night. Uncle Wiggly is sure to bring it in to roll it up and carry it in. I'll crawl out from beneath it and nibble his ears! Ha! Ha! Ha!"

The Wolf laughed, but Uncle Wiggly would not have laughed had the bunnies been there. But he wasn't.

Under the rug, that was spread out on the grass, crawled the bad Wolf, and there he curled himself up, making himself as flat as possible, to wait until Uncle Wiggly came home.

Meanwhile the bunnies rabbit gentleman was having a good time hopping over the fields and through the woods. He had a delightful little adventure. I may tell you about it some time. But "Bang! Whack! Crack!" went the broom.

now I must relate about the Wolf.

As the afternoon shadows were growing longer and longer Uncle Wiggly hopped toward his hollow stump bungalow. Nurse Jane was not yet at home, but the bunnies saw the rug in the backyard and said:

"I must sweep it and bring it in for Nurse Jane before supper."

Getting the broom, Uncle Wiggly walked slowly over the rug, sweeping from it the leaves and grass that had blown on it during the day. There were a number of little humps, or hills, in the rug, as the grass of the yard was uneven. But there was one especially big, large hump.

"I never knew there was such a large hump in my yard," spoke the bunnies. "I wonder what it is?" He stepped on it. The hump seemed to be soft, and no wonder, for it was the Wolf, hiding under the rug.

"This is very strange," whispered the bunnies. "What is that hump? Can it be a camel? No, it must be a lump of dirt. Well, before I roll up the rug to bring it in I'll just beat out and flatten that lump with the broad side of the broom. Such a large hump may cause Nurse Jane to stumble."

"Raising the broom high over his head, Uncle Wiggly brought it down hard on the lump under the rug.

"Bang! Whack! Crack!" went the broom again and again on the lump.

At last the Wolf could stand it no longer.

"Stop! Stop!" he cried, wiggling out from beneath the rug. "I'm not a lump, nor a camel's hump!"

"Oh, so you aren't!" laughed Uncle Wiggly, as he aimed another blow with the broom at the bad chap. "But you looked like a lump."

"And I feel like a lump!" howled the Wolf. "Oh, how sore I am!" he howled, holding his sides, as away he ran. "Pooled again!" he whimpered, as he raced over hill and dale. "Pooled again! Will I ever get Uncle Wiggly's ears?"

As for me, I hope not, and hope you feel the same. (Copyright 1922)

CHAPTER 22. The Incendiaries.

"THE Incendiaries," one of the most famous arson gangs that ever worked in the United States operated between 1910 and 1916, and in that time burned fifty-two residences and collected insurance on them in various parts of the country. The marauding of this gang led to the formation of a national board to detect arsonists.

As most of this gang have served their terms and are trying to make good, their names will not be used. Their system was so perfect that they might be committing their incendiary crimes today undetected had they not yielded to the temptation to embezzle furniture which they were buying on the installment plan.

The head of the gang understood the insurance business and knew exactly how to make out a proof of loss. They moved about the country, so they never met the same claim adjuster twice. They always secured or rented houses which they were sure could be burned down before the fire department could arrive and they never set fire to a place when the house next door was unprotected by insurance or where there was danger of spreading a conflagration.

They never used mineral oil, which gives off a black smoke and an unmistakable odor, but mixed turpentine and linseed oil, the one vegetable and the other a wood product.

After having burned houses and collected insurance on them in various cities of Oregon and Washington, they went to San Francisco. Their first move was to go to Los Angeles and purchase about $50 worth of old, broken furniture from a man who gave them a bill of sale, specifying that the stuff was new and worth $1000. Then they shipped this furniture to San Francisco, carefully packed, and insured for $1000.

There they stored it in a warehouse, insured for $1000, and secured a receipt for property valued at that price. Finally they moved this furniture into a rented house in some isolated section of the city, remote from fire mains. Then they burned it by spreading the turpentine and linseed oil throughout the place.

Their claim was perfect. They presented the bill of sale for $1000 worth of furniture, they showed the bill of lading from the railroad proving that the goods had been shipped and they offered the records of the storage warehouse and the draying concern that hauled the stuff.

Thus for $50 worth of furniture they collected $1000. Then they moved on to another city. In another case three of the gang bought three adjoining lots in a new tract that had no fire protection. Apparently they were strangers. They paid a few dollars down on each lot, and all three started building. They built fine, expensive homes. The other erected a shack on the windward side.

The shack was not insured. The big houses carried $5000 insurance each. Of course the $10,000 went to the gang, the three men sharing alike. Frequently their fires were started by an oil stove explosion. Sometimes a lamp was overturned. Again rats gnawed matches, they said.

ODD FACTS

The average life of an oyster is ten years.

A single grain of indigo dye will tint one ton of water.

Lion tamers frequently perfume themselves with lavender. There is, it is said, no record of a lion ever having attacked a trainer who had taken the precaution of using this perfume.

Un-numbered Houses

Each day—
I make my way along—
The self-same streets—
And well-known landmarks greet my eyes—
That have so often scanned them—
Of a dreary day—
And numbered doors are but to me—
A dull monotony—
But still there's meaning in these signs—
That mark the houses where I pause—
To leave the tokens—
That I bear—
For maid and matron—
For there are numbered scrolls
That flaunt their richness in my eyes—
And warn me to conduct myself—
As well becomes a lackey—
For here in cushioned ease—
Lives wealth—and power—
So I drop letters—neat—embossed—
On silver trays—
And catch the smile that modish maid—Broadcasts me—
And radio it back again—
To cheerful giver.
Then there are numbers—clumsy scrawl—
On shabby doors—
That rattle ghost-like in the breeze—
And—strange it be—but still it's true—
When I approach a door thus marked—
I lose my poise—and careless grow—
And sail the book that tells the tale—
Of Doctor Bunkum's Goat Extract—With rank abandon—
Which proves I'm human.
Then there are numbers made of tin—
And some are scrawled on doors with chalk—
That drive me looney.
Then on some creepy dismal shacks—
There are no numbers—
And haunted faces peer from half-opened doors—
At my shrill whistle—
Then disappear—so silently—
It seems as if I stood before a tomb—
But down the street upon the door—
There is no number—
And trailing vines have quite obscured the framework—
And there within that cooling place—
Sits patiently a mother—an invalid for many years—
Each day she gives a word that cheers—
Each day my eyes must fill with tears—
She never seeing—
And sitting close beside her there—
A daughter—cooing words of love to her—
And in my heart I know it is—Her compensation.

Winifred Black Says

MARY AND A HOME.

Well, Mary, you certainly started something interesting when you wrote and said you would like to have a home of your own. You could see a man some time who really cared for a real girl, and didn't want to spend all his time running around after little painted powder-puffs with plectrum psychics, and rouged lips and not an idea in their heads or a sentiment in their hearts.

You like to dance you said—sometimes—not all the time. You like the dance—once in a while—not every night.

And would like to take another chance from young man who never been married at all and who say that they don't even dare to think of marriage when they look at the average girl. Some of the letters are well-written and correctly spelled, some are from men who are uneducated, some are from poor men and some—yes, quite a few of them—are from men who are more than usually well-to-do, of all.

And they are all tired of the little powder-puff type. They are afraid of her and they don't trust her, she always after something, always looking for money or a new bracelet, or a party, or a motor ride, or something, anything at all, so she can coax and hint and bully it out of some man, somehow—no matter who he is.

And they all want to meet some simple, straightforward, real girl, who'll help them to start out in life and make a real home for them and for—yes, they all want somebody else, too—every one of them—some of them want a wife and a home, but they all want children and a home.

Zeus, King of the Gods
CHAPTER 22

THE people who lived in Greece in ancient times made up stories about gods and goddesses. Chief of these was Zeus. Zeus had power over the bright world of day. He was ruler of the sky and king of the gods. He lived on Mount Olympus.

Zeus was married more than once. His first wife was named Metis. It was Metis who made Cronus cough up the children—she did so by giving him a certain kind of liquor to drink. Later Zeus married a goddess named Hera. She was very good-looking, but had a jealous nature.

That was unlucky indeed, for Zeus was not a good husband. He had love affairs with quite a few goddesses and beautiful women. Whenever Hera heard of such an affair, she grew hot with rage. Sometimes she took it out by scolding Zeus, but more often she tried to get revenge upon the person who caught his fancy.

The Greeks declared that in some cases Zeus took the form of an eagle. An old Greek picture shows Zeus as an eagle bearing a pretty maiden up to heaven. The maiden had been picking flowers on a mountain side. Zeus, flying overhead, saw her and liked her looks. So he came down and persuaded her to let him carry her away.

1 Minute to Answer This.

"Those candy canes which the little window-shoppers are inspecting represent in rebus form a spring flower which blooms in all the colors of the rainbow. What is its name?"

Household HINTS
HAM MUFFINS.

Beat two ounces of butter to a cream, and add three-quarters of a cupful of chopped boiled ham. Mix well, then add a beaten egg, three-quarters of a cupful of Graham or whole wheat flour, three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful of wheat flour, a teaspoonful of sugar and a cupful of rich milk. Beat well and divide in twelve well-buttered muffin tins. Bake in a hot oven twenty minutes. These muffins are excellent either hot or cold.

SARDINE MUFFINS.

Make these muffins the same as those with ham, only in place of the ham add six sardines that have been skinned, boned and mashed with a fork with a teaspoonful of lemon juice, tiny bit of red pepper and a half teaspoonful of onion juice added. These muffins are very savory and are excellent to split, butter and fill with sliced or chopped hard-boiled egg for sandwich use while warm.

PEANUT-BUTTER MUFFINS.

Make the batter the same as for the berry muffins, only use half the amount of butter, using instead a heaping tablespoonful of peanut butter. Add, also, a quarter cupful of finely-chopped, freshly roasted peanuts. This makes a very delightful muffin batter and the muffins are good hot or cold.

Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World!

SOME day a movie theater is going to come to the crash of a flying saucer. One Aggie Maude bounding through the silver screen. That Mad Blonde will be me, and the occasion for my demonstration will be one of those plays where some Maude, with a past like a hunk o' Limburger, magnanimously forgives some poor, erring woman her one "ill" err, and permits her to bask in his favor. Every time I see a domestic scene like that I want to hurl the fireless cooker at the man, kick the lady and write to President Harding to see if something can't be done about it.

Now I'm not trying to work up any propaganda for sin or sinners. Sin's a bad business. All I ever tried of it was a losing bet. But I'm here to state that I have NO GUILT. Sin is no worse, nor better than He-sin. A wild cat is a poisonous weed whether planted by woman or man, and the urge that makes for the planting is exactly the same.

The double standard was based on the convenient theory that little girls were made of sugar and spice and all things nice, and little boys "of snips and snails and puppy dog tails." Therefore if the little girl skidded morally, she was much more reprehensible and responsible than the sadly handicapped little boy. We know now that that is all bunkum. We're all alike—one grand scramble of sugar and spice and snips and snails. If there's any groveling to be done, it's the mat for every son or daughter of Eve, but none.

Why should William, with a moral record shot full of boils and festering sores, be any more of a person for her new life as she has for her old one. A woman like this doesn't waste time in raving or repining, however much her heart may ache. She's a million times more of a person for her new life than the sentimental Susses who prate of the sanctity of the home—and then proceed to make it just about as peaceful and sacred as a rodeo!

Dear Jerry: I have been reading your columns with interest, and I'd like to join the Gang, too, particularly in response to "Distressed" letter in the Sunday paper, June 4. Now in regard to the mother-in-law question it is sure some question! But I would like to relate my experience in regard to my mother-in-law, who has been a terror all during our married life.

My husband and I are in every way, but when it comes to his mother, he feels a son's duty to care for her, and it is right that he should. But the eternal question is, should a man give up the love for his wife, his home, and new obligations, or the love for his mother and duty towards her?

To my way of thinking, they are two separate and distinct problems. One should not overlap the other, and they each should "keep hands off" the other.

BUT, when the mother-in-law comes around and tries to denigrate the situation and son, then is the time for a decided understanding to take place.

And that is just what happened in my case. When we were first married, I gave in to every little whim of hers (like a chump) and she began to expect me to. My idea was to keep harmony among everybody, but very time I got the worst of the bargain. I knew the time had come to take some sort of action to stop this, but just how, I did not know. I decided to abide my time, and let her ride.

It came: One day I found out that my mother-in-law had gained the co-operation of a former sweetheart of my husband, and the two of them had conspired to make trouble and try to split up our marriage. Wasn't that a complex situation? My dander, Irish fighting blood, and everything else was up, and I was out for scalps.

They would meet my husband about noon, and the trio would go out to lunch together, and do numerous other underhanded things to disgust to my mother.

One evening, with as much poise and ladylike manner as I could summon, I breached the subject to my husband, and we had a stormy session, needless to say. But when we both cooled down, I told him such actions had to stop, and stop darn quick. It was a case of his pal and our dreams, or his duty to his mother and her whims, or a future without his pal.

He couldn't imagine a future without his pal and his big dreams fulfilled, so we compromised, like two boys, and I was out for scalps.

Marriage Problems

Chad Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

HOW DICKY WELCOMED BESS DEAN.

Why had Bess Dean come to Coldspring?

The question puzzled me, as I sauntered along the curving road with Junior clinging tightly to my hand, while Marion and the girl with whom my thoughts were occupied walked behind us.

That, whatever her motive, she was bent upon making herself agreeable to every one I knew from the effort she was putting forth to entertain Marion—the child was in a gale of laughter before we had gone a few yards. And a distinct effort on my former colleague's part I knew it to be, for she was "beamed almost to extinction"—a phrase I used frequently to hear upon her lips—by Marion. I had no doubt, and her assiduous attention to the child marked her benevolent and hospitable attitude I had forced myself to adopt toward her.

MADGE'S WISH.

That Dicky was somewhere in her scheme of things I was sure, but I acquiesced for any of my deep interest in him. She is of a different nature, too self-centered a nature to let any man away her interest or her emotions to any great extent. I finally decided that the story she told me of her last two weeks of her vacation.

And I was more than sure that she would not rest until she had accomplished the object that had caused her to leave me. I had a feeling of pity for her, but I was not to let her see it. I was sure that the desire to avenge her vanity for her ruling was the strongest motive in her mind by Dicky's refusal to let her power for him, a refusal for which she justly held me responsible. And a great deal to do with her character, this particular portion of the story of the last two weeks of her vacation.

And I was more than sure that she would not rest until she had accomplished the object that had caused her to leave me. I had a feeling of pity for her, but I was not to let her see it. I was sure that the desire to avenge her vanity for her ruling was the strongest motive in her mind by Dicky's refusal to let her power for him, a refusal for which she justly held me responsible. And a great deal to do with her character, this particular portion of the story of the last two weeks of her vacation.

"THIS IS TOO MUCH!"

Dicky is to be counted on in every social emergency. He always manages correctly the mentality and temperament of each person he meets, and tempers his greeting accordingly. To Miss Dean he was gay, flamboyant, exaggerated, as at my call, and when we saw Dicky, he straightened from his lounging position and strode swiftly toward us.

It is! It isn't! It can't be, but it is! It isn't! he was an impressiveness calculated to make any woman unused to him believe that he had been thinking of nothing save her since he had last seen her.

He held out both his hands as he spoke, and took her entirely willing ones within his with an apparently fervent pressure. But I have seen him give exactly the same greeting to many a girl in the past. I married him, some attractive, some distinctly the opposite, some positive studio freaks. I knew that it means absolutely nothing but his instinctive reading of the vanity of the women he had thus greeted. And I also caught a humorous, half-dismayed lifting of his eyebrows across Bess Dean's eyes, which meant: "Whatever shall we do with her?"

It was not with Dicky's reactions that I was concerned just then, but with Bess Dean's. I was curious to see how she took Dicky's greeting of her, and my opinion of her acuteness mounted several degrees as I saw that she recognized its exact meaning.

She tipped her head saucily to one side and surveyed him with a quizzical glance.

"You're quite overpowered, aren't you?" said to me, with a wink you can stand the happy shock of knowing that I'm going to stay two weeks if I can find some one to take me.

"Two weeks?" Dicky echoed. "This is too much—happiness," he finished, after a mischievous pause. "But let us not stand here for all the yokels to gaze at our blissful reunion. Prithvi, come with me to Yonder seat beneath the forest monarch and relate to me the tale of your adventures and conquests since I saw you last. Good wife," he said to me, "what was intended as an imitation of my diurnal husband, 'Will you not see to rest and refreshment for our guest?'"

WALTER HOOVER, AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE AT HENLEY, WINS HEAT IN SCULLING RACE

Mlle. Lenglen, Paddock Says Molla Mallory Track Was Fast Match Delayed

Semi-Finals at Wimbledon Will Be Played Tomorrow; Four Remain.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

WIMBLEDON, July 6.—Mrs. Molla

Blustedt Mallory, the American woman champion, and Miss Edith

McGuire, of Boston, were defeated in the women's doubles of the grass court tennis championship. Mrs.

Lambert Chambers and Mrs. Pen-cock, Great Britain, won from the Americans 6-1.

The defeat of the Americans was a surprise to the huge audience, which numbered 10,000. Miss Sigourney played weakly and Mrs.

McGuire was not in her best form.

Put Off a Wood and Mlle. Suzanne

Lenglen easily won their mixed doubles match, 8-2, 6-1.

Henry rata fell at Wimbledon

this afternoon, making play on the outside court unlikely. It was hoped that play on the center court could be resumed.

WIMBLEDON, July 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Gerald Patterson

of Australia defeated Cecil

Campbell of England, in the men's tennis singles today. The match was interrupted by the fourth set when play was resumed today by a score of 6-1. This gave him the victory, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, winning him a place in the semifinals.

When play for the day was abandoned because of the rain, Gerald

Patterson of Australia was leading in an unfinished match against

Cecil Campbell of England, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2, 1-1.

Molla Blustedt Mallory has won her way to the semi-finals of the women's singles in the grass court tennis championship. She defeated

Mrs. H. D. Edginton of England yesterday, 6-2, 6-4, on a sudden court, which became extremely muddy as the play progressed. This victory brings Mrs. Mallory one step nearer her longed-for match with the little French world's champion,

Suzanne Lenglen.

Mrs. Lenglen by her defeat of

Miss Elizabeth Ryan on Tuesday

already qualified for the semi-finals

yesterday's matches. But she was

movement of her American rival.

Mrs. Mallory has reached the semi-finals without losing a single

set and, in doing so, has defeated

Mrs. Kenne, Mrs. Kullick, Mrs. Par-

son and Mrs. Edginton.

SUZANNE BEAT STARS.

Mlle. Lenglen in reaching the semi-finals has defeated Mrs. B. F.

Ellis, Miss Evelyn Colyer, Miss

Cathleen McKane and Miss Bliz-

both Ryan, all sterling players, and her wins have been impressive.

There is no question that up to the present she has been at the top of her game.

Both women have many followers,

favorite. The French champion

has added considerable to her favor

game she has shown. On the other hand, Mrs. Mallory, according to the critics, has not played the steady

improvement expected as she became more accustomed to the English courts, the climate, and more

especially to the lower bounding

English ball.

Mlle. Lenglen has yet to meet Mrs.

Peacock, one of England's best players, but, in some way, the English tennis enthusiasts feel that she

is going to beat their candidate

and come into action in the finals

with the American.

In yesterday's matches Mrs. Peacock defeated Miss Brasfield, the

Yorkshire champion, with ease,

playing an excellent all-around

game, while Mrs. Beamish had a long struggle with Mrs. Elliott,

by 8-6, 6-1.

Paddock Says Santa Barbara Track Was Fast

Champion Sprinter Predicts
That Century in :09:2
Still Is Possible.

By CHARLES W. PADDOCK, (Greatest Sprinter.)
(Written for the United Press.)

PASADENA, July 6.—The Santa

Barbara track was fast when I made those new records last Tuesday. Eddie Sudden, the Stanford sprinter, was running in fine form, getting away to a wonderful start.

After the first race a wind sprang up and blew in our faces, slowing up the time somewhat.

None of the records made are

"breakage proof" for always there is the possibility of everything

being perfect, from the competitor

to the track, including the day itself and the form in which the runner finds himself. When that time comes, then will be recorded

9 2-5 seconds for the hundred yards.

Since the days of Arthur Duffy, critics have been commenting on the chances of a "nine-two" century and though to date it has eluded all sprinters, there is small reason to give up hope, for it will come.

Both Eddie Sudden and I were sorry that some of the eastern sprinters could not have been in hand for the Santa Barbara handicaps.

It will be impossible for either of us to go east and run in the national championships in September for several reasons.

The event comes at a time when the athletes of the west are not in training and when most of the college stars have been engaged in work all summer and are not in the best of condition. It is almost impossible for one man to train all by himself through weeks of warm weather and appear at his best three thousand miles from home.

Finally, the time it takes to prepare for the championship and the many days necessary to be spent on the eastern tracks before competition breaks too much into business to allow either Sudden or myself to appear at Newark.

Mrs. Lenglen by her defeat of

Miss Elizabeth Ryan on Tuesday

already qualified for the semi-finals

and therefore did not participate in yesterday's matches. But she was on the ground watching every

movement of her American rival.

Mrs. Mallory has reached the

semi-finals without losing a single

set and, in doing so, has defeated

Mrs. Kenne, Mrs. Kullick, Mrs. Par-

son and Mrs. Edginton.

SUZANNE BEAT STARS.

Mlle. Lenglen in reaching the

semi-finals has defeated Mrs. B. F.

Cathleen McKane and Miss Bliz-

both Ryan, all sterling players, and

her wins have been impressive.

present she has been at the top of

her game.

Both women have many followers,

but the American is the popular

favorite. The French champion

has added considerable to her favor

of late because of the excellent

game she has shown. On the other hand, Mrs. Mallory, according to the

critics, has not played the steady

improvement expected as she became more accustomed to the English courts, the climate, and more

especially to the lower bounding

English ball.

Mlle. Lenglen has yet to meet Mrs.

Peacock, one of England's best

players, but, in some way, the English tennis enthusiasts feel that she

is going to beat their candidate

and come into action in the finals

with the American.

In yesterday's matches Mrs. Peacock defeated Miss Brasfield, the

Yorkshire champion, with ease,

playing an excellent all-around

game, while Mrs. Beamish had a long struggle with Mrs. Elliott,

from which she emerged the victor,

by 8-6, 6-1.

To Compete in Paris Games

Presenting MISS HELEN M. KREPPS of Ohio State university, one of America's foremost women athletes, who will be a member of the American women's track team that takes part in the Paris games beginning on August 20. Miss Krepps has proven herself a star sprinter and has been a consistent winner in the dash events in women's field meets. She is expected to win several points in the first international track meet for women athletes.

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

By W. D. MCNICOLL.

Oakland golfers, amateur and professional, whenever they appear in open contest, take away a big share of the trophies. Claremont, with its narrow and tricky holes, Sequoyah, with its numerous testing tee shots and difficult approaches, have apparently trained the golfers to accommodate themselves to the

of the championship courses in California. In the recent Del Monte tournament, with a comparatively small number of local players

entered, they finished with a record in the semi-finals and 2 in the final.

Robert Hunter, who refereed the recent professional contest at Del

Monte when he made the famous decision that cost Abe Espinosa the price of a trip to Chicago, showed some real grit in the final contest against his clubmate Jack Neville.

Those two Claremonters for 34 holes fought stroke by stroke until Neville by a record-breaking score ousted the Berkeley-Claremont margin. Bob Hunter was playing championship golf at Claremont

when Neville was learning the game. His first lessons from George

Smith, E. D. Porter, who plays for Sequoyah against Claremont, but for Claremont against any other team, showed brilliant golf thoughout the entire Del Monte tournament, eliminating several of the best players on the coast, only to run into Neville in the semi-final,

when Jack was going like a whirlwind.

Mrs. E. D. Porter, who has been showing a steady all-round improvement in her game recently in tournament events at Sequoyah,

Claremont, Diablo and Berkeley, arrived at Del Monte to oust the Los Angeles champion, one of the strongest favorites to start in, a woman's event over the Monterey course. Mrs. Porter will be the recipient of a big ovation when she arrives at Sequoyah tomorrow to compete in the usual Friday contest.

EASTBAY CITIES
URGED TO PLAN FIRE PROTECTIONWater Company Renews Attempt to Negotiate Improvements.

A second attempt to negotiate with Eastbay cities regarding the installation of improvements, estimated at approximately $2,500,000, for the purpose of enabling cities to give fire protection, was made today by Edwin O. Edgerton, president of the Eastbay Water Company, in a letter sent to the city councils of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond, Piedmont and San Leandro.

In a recent decision, the Railroad Commission declined to permit an increase in rates to allow return on the money to be invested, but suggested that the matter be the subject of negotiations between the cities and the company. Several weeks ago, Edgerton wrote a letter to the cities, but they have not yet responded, according to his letter today.

HEARST HALL FIRE CITED.
The second letter follows closely on the fire which destroyed Hearst Hall on the University of California campus. Edgerton disclaims any legal obligation on the part of the Eastbay Water company to furnish water for fire protection, but says that the recent fire on the campus at the University of California emphasizes the continuing menace of fires without adequate water supply and pressure, and we urge that you give this matter attention.

Edgerton states that the company feels it necessary to report to the Railroad Commission the result of our efforts to negotiate with the cities for the installation of these additions to the plant, but before doing so, we desire again to draw this matter to your attention in the hope that we may receive some definite response.

Edgerton states that the company is willing to make the proposed improvements, the only requirement being that the company receive a fair return on this investment.

TEXT OF LETTER.
Following is the letter sent to the cities:

May 26, 1922, we wrote you a letter calling attention to the fact that Eastbay Water Company had presented to the official representatives of the cities in which the company gives water service a comprehensive plan and estimate for so adding to the transmission and distribution system of the company as to produce water in quantity and pressure sufficient to enable these cities to give protection against fire; and following the suggestion in its letter to the Railroad Commission in its De-

ACCIDENTALLY

Albert Tonnemacher, 2306 Ninety-fourth avenue, may lose the use of his right arm as a result of an accident yesterday when a gun in the hands of M. Hoffman, 1703 Ninety-second avenue, accidentally exploded. The men were hunting rabbits at Toler Heights in this city when Hoffman's shotgun discharged shattering the bone in Tonnemacher's arm and tearing the muscles. He was removed to the Emergency hospital.

AUSTRALIAN WAGES STICK.
SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 6.—The government has announced its intention to do everything possible to promote business without lowering wages.

Decision No. 10347, dated April 22, 1922, that the company and the municipalities should work out some mutually satisfactory solution of the problem we reaffirmed in that letter the position heretofore repeatedly taken by the company of entire willingness to make such additions to its plant, the only requirement being that the company receive a fair return on this investment.

We have received no reply to this letter nor have we been advised of any action taken by the city authorities.

We feel it necessary to report to the Railroad Commission the result of our efforts to negotiate with the cities for the installation of these additions to the plant, but before doing so, we desire again to draw this matter to your attention, in the hope that we may receive some definite response.

Eastbay Water company, while it has no legal obligation to furnish water for fire protection, nevertheless feels that the recent fire on the campus of the University of California emphasizes the continuing menace of fire without adequate water supply and pressure, and we urge that you give this matter attention.

EDUCATORS WILL MAKE STUDY OF HIGH SCHOOLSProfessor Pugh of U. C.
Heads Probe of Entire Intermediate System.

BERKELEY, July 6.—Because "old-fashioned" education has been declared to be relegated to the background and too much "jazz" implied by the modern boy and girl via the classroom, the high schools of the state are being placed on trial.

Whether the teaching of the "Three R's" as conducted in schools a generation or two ago is the correct method of educating the youth of the land, whether more "advanced" subjects are needed in the curriculum of the twentieth century citizen will be decided by a jury of fifteen expert educators of California.

Professor Charles E. Rugh of the department of education at the University of California has been released from his teaching duties to direct a year's investigation into the workings of the high school.

Dr. David P. Barrows, president of the university, has provided headquarters for the committee of experts named by the California High School Teachers' Association to make the survey.

A study of conditions will be made in every high school of California. Students will be questioned as to their aspirations in life and preferences in an effort to ascertain if the needs of the day are being met in high school work.

Whether modern amusements in the form of "jazz" dances, motion picture shows, vaudeville, athletics and other diversions play too important a part in the life of the twentieth century boy and girl will also be determined. Upon the results of the investigation will depend the moulding of future courses of study in the schools of California.

EXTRAVAGANCE CHARGED.
The associations in various parts of the state recently made the criticism that too much money is being spent on secondary or high school education, explains Professor Rugh in his position as chairman of the Bureau of Research and Service just organized to conduct the survey. "High school teachers resented the charge and prepared to answer the assertion," he found, however, that they had nothing in the way of material with which to make adequate reply, so it was determined to ascertain just exactly what the status of affairs was at the present time.

In the call sent out to every high school principal and teacher in California enlisting aid in making the survey, the following explanation is given:

"The tremendous increased costs of secondary education in recent years and the inevitable additions of tax levies on account of the further expansion of secondary education demand an immediate justification of these expenditures in the best interpretation of the purposes and objectives of secondary education in our scheme for an enlightened and responsible democracy as a complete and satisfactory answer to the challenge that sooner or later inevitably will be made by the reactionary forces of society. The defense of the institution of secondary education must first be made by those responsible for the organization of the institution claiming the right of imposing heavy taxation on its behalf."

Charges that too many "frivol-

31 Grass Fires
In Four Days Is Oakland Record

THE open season for grass fires has begun with a record of 31 from July 1 to July 4, but according to fire department officials the season will soon close when the new grass fire ordinance goes into effect, giving the fire department an effective weapon to compel householders to clean their lots at the demand of the fire marshal.

"At present," says Captain J. F. Sandy, of the fire prevention bureau, "we can compel property owners to clear dry grass and weeds only from their property. But after the ordinance becomes effective in a few days we can compel them to clear off the whole lot if there is any rubbish."

"Oakland cannot afford brush fires. We will be glad when we can eliminate the danger."

ous and "non-essential" subjects are being included in the curriculum of the state university have also been applied to high schools.

To secure the viewpoint of the high school student on present educational methods a questionnaire has been sent to every member of the spring graduating class throughout California. Which studies are taken, the preferences of students as to vocations and choices as to amusements are included in the questions asked.

How many students are wholly or partially self-supporting will also be determined. Whether or not present courses of study are meeting the needs of high school boys and girls in preparing for the chosen life work or whether so-called "dead" subjects should be dropped and other substituted will be one of the results of the questionnaire.

In order to stress the importance of the survey, the work now being conducted by Professor Rugh and the committee of educators will form the subject of two conventions of high school teachers to be held simultaneously this month, one at Berkeley and the other at Los Angeles.

Both will be conducted in conjunction with the annual summer session of the University of California now in session at Berkeley. The convention is scheduled for July 19, 20 and 21.

COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY.
Associate Professor Rugh in the investigation just starting are J. W. Groves, also a member of the department of education at the university, and Miss Elsie Martens of the Oakland school department.

After the survey is completed, in charge of the survey includes besides Professor Rugh, the following well known educators: Elizabeth A. Alet, principal Alexander Hamilton Junior High School, Berkeley; A. J. Cloud, superintendent of schools, San Francisco; Essie L. Elliott, head of the department of home economics, Manual Arts School, Los Angeles; L. J. L. principal Chaffey Union High School and Junior College, Ontario; George C. Jensen, principal Eureka High School; Vierling Kersey, director part-time high school and teacher, Polytechnic Evening School, Los Angeles; T. S. McQuaddy, principal Union High School, Watsonville; Emma L. Noonan, teacher in Girls' High School, San Francisco; Dr. William Martin, professor, assistant professor of education, Stanford University; Dr. Lester Burton Rodgers, director of the school of education, University of Southern California; Mrs. Alice Ball Struthers, vice-principal McKinley Junior High School, Los Angeles; Sarah M. Sturtevant, dean of girls, University High School, Oakland; Robert J. Teal, principal Union High School, Modesto; Clyde M. Westcott, head of the science department, Hollywood High School.

As ex-officio members of the committee are Horace M. Rebo, Santa Monica, president of the California High School Teachers' Association, and Arthur W. Chambers, San Francisco, secretary of the association.

LITIGATION AT LOWEST EBB
ON WEDNESDAY

Three family quarrels and a will are all that prevented Wednesday from being a total loss in the office of County Clerk George Gross. Not in the memory of the oldest deputy clerk has there been such a stagnation in the law business as on Wednesday. Incidentally it was also the first time in history that all the civil suits filed were for divorce.

"Wednesday was the lightest day in the recollection of any of us," said Gross. "Three divorce actions and one petition for letters of administration constituted all the new suits filed, and it is the first time on record that divorce actions constituted all the civil suits filed in one day. Summer is always a slack time in the courts, for attorneys and litigants always gain away on vacation. I never has yesterday's record been approached."

Educators Named
For Exchange Work

Eight Oakland educators have been designated as "exchange teachers" to work in various parts of the country this year while educators come here from those places and teach in Oakland schools. The position as "exchange teacher" is sought by educators as it is held to have a broadening effect upon the travelers and increases the knowledge concerning the school systems of each part of the country.

Another batch of notifications arrived today from members of The TRIBUNE Radio Club stating that they will be present at the meeting of the club Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers and laying plans for the new organization. The meeting will be held at the T. & D. theater.

I my letters from members of the club express the approval of The TRIBUNE's action in turning the club over to the membership and thereby turning it into an independent club. The TRIBUNE will feel well repaid for its effort in organizing the largest radio club in America if the club will but continue to function for the benefit of the amateur radio operator.

If you are a member of The TRIBUNE Radio Club, attend the meeting Saturday by all means.

Five men were arrested last night for failing to comply with a policeman's command to "move on." They are Joseph Fernandez, Roy Wilson, Jack Rhue, Oscar Linga and Lawrence Molder and were arrested by Policeman George Benberger of the eastern division who said that they have been congregating in his district and insulting women passersby.

How to Make A Simple Filament Rheostat.

(Copyright by Edward M. Davis.)
(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

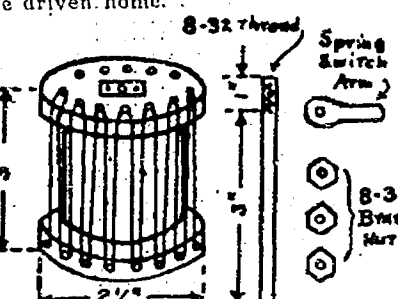

While the ordinary filament rheostat may be purchased at a moderate figure, it is not always satisfactory, as the wire frequently comes loose and efficiency in cooling is often sacrificed in order to make the device compact. It is the purpose of this article to show how a simple but satisfactory rheostat may be constructed from the materials usually found around every experimenter's shop.

The materials required are the following:
One wooden spool, such as magnet wire is wound on, 3 inches long, 2½ inches in diameter.
Forty-two 32-inch round head brass nails (essentially wire).
One 4-inch piece of brass rod with 8-32 thread 1 inch at one end.
Three 8-32 hexagon brass nuts.
One piece spring brass 3 inches long by ½ inch wide.
Two small binding posts.

The wooden spool is placed upright on one end and twenty of the round head brass nails driven in near the edge in the form of an arc. The nails should be about 2-16 inch from the edge and about 3-32 inch apart. A small drill may be used to start the holes and will keep the wood from splitting. The nails may be so spaced as to cover the entire 360 degrees of a circle or only 180 as desired, but they should not be driven all the way at this stage of the procedure.

Twenty more of the nails are now driven into the edge of the other flange of the spool opposite the first flange. The second set of nails are in the edge, and not in the flat surface of the end. This leaves one end clear for mounting the rheostat against a panel. Two binding posts are mounted on the inner surface of the other end so as not to be in the way of the switch arm, which will be mounted so as to make contact with the heads of the nails driven in the flat surface.

ing posts are mounted on the inner surface of the other end so as not to be in the way of the switch arm, which will be mounted so as to make contact with the heads of the nails driven in the flat surface.

Simple Filament Rheostat.

The switch arm is made from part of the piece of spring brass and the single bearing located on the switch end of the spool is made from the remainder. The piece used as a bearing should have a hole of the proper size to just clear the shaft and is secured to the end of the spool with two of the brass nails. The switch arm is clamped between two brass hexagon nuts, the third nut serving as a thrust bearing and is screwed tight against the end of the bearing. The bearing is provided in the form of a hole in the panel on which the rheostat is mounted, or another bearing similar to the one described above may be made for unmounted use. If the resistance wire used has too great a resistance between taps a second wire may be wound on the same way as the first, thus cutting the total resistance in half.

RADIO SUPPLIES
TRADE INDICATES
BIG INCREASEDeclines in Sales Seems to Have Hit Receiving Sets Only.

A car of all radio supply houses in Oakland and San Francisco discloses that the sale of radio receiving sets has dropped nearly fifty per cent during the past sixty days but that, on the other hand, the sale of radio supplies of all kinds has increased 75 per cent.

This information was gathered by a local firm, whose business in complete radio sets fell off. The firm desired to learn if this situation existed elsewhere, and why. The declining sale of complete radio receiving sets is credited to the increased business of building one's own set. So many diagrams and instructions have been printed the report says, that the average amateur does not feel that he has done himself justice until he attempts to build his own set. Reports that reach the radio department of The TRIBUNE from members of the TRIBUNE Radio Club, which is composed of 3000 amateurs living in the immediate vicinity, show that the average set built at home gives trouble at first, usually due to some slight fault in the construction, but that after these faults are gradually ironed out the home-made set is giving satisfaction.

A gradual decline in the price of complete radio receiving sets will not alter the situation, in the belief of local radio men. The amateur, in their opinion, believed he can build a better set than the manufacturers and has to satisfy himself by attempting it.

DRIVER ACCUSED OF VIOLATING LAW

Harry Swanson, 1422 Champion street, is under arrest for three violations of the state motor vehicle act as a result of an accident last night when the automobile of Policeman H. T. Blakeley, 703 Jackson street, overturned, alleged that Swanson's failure to observe the law resulted in the accident. He accused him of failing to give a turning signal, cutting a corner and driving recklessly.

THE BUSY FAMILY was spending an evening at home. Every light was burning.

Mrs. Busy began using the Electric Iron. She picked it up, connected it—and quicker than a flash every light went out.

What had happened? The fall had broken a part inside the iron. This defect caused a "short circuit" which in turn "blew out" the fuses, thus preventing a further flow of electricity.

Keep some extra fuses on hand

The cartridge and plug fuses on your house are "safety valves" which protect against a possible defect in electrical fixtures. When too heavy a load of electricity is placed on the lines—or when fixtures are not perfect, the fuses "blow out" and prevent further damage.

Keep some extra fuses on hand. The main fuses on residences should not be less than 30 amperes. The fuses on all branch circuits should be 15 amperes. See your appliance dealer.
